Stouffville fisherman lands 23 pound rainbow trout

Here's one that didn't get away. This huge rainbow trout, landed by Gerry Shields of Hawthorne Avenue, Stouffville, has been entered in the Molson Big Fish Contest of 1984. The big beauty tipped the scales at 23.4 pounds and measured 36 inches long and 22 inches around. Gerry and four companions, Larry Gilroy, Wayne Crowder, Walter Hoffman and Pat Coughlin, were participating, Saturday, in the Star-sponsored Salmon Derby at Port Credit when Gerry hooked this whopper. He was using a 25 pound test line at the time.

"Jr. Citizen of the Year"

Weekly newspapers honor 'good kids'

Community newspapers across Ontario, including The Tribune, have a Bicentennial year program designed to honor "the good kids".

The first 250 young people to be nominated for Ontario Community Newspapers Association's "Junior Citizen of the Year" awards, will receive a Bicentennial book, donated by the Ontario Ministry of Tourism and Recreation.

Up to 24 of the nominees will receive an airline ticket good for any Canadian destination, courtesy of CP Air which is the program patron.

Twelve of those nominees and their families will be guests of OCNA and CP Air at the newspaper convention in Toronto next March, where Ontario's Lieutenant Governor the Hon. John Black Aird will present the Junior Citizen awards.

The Junior Citizen recognition program is co-ordinated by the 242 OCNA member papers. In its first three years of operation, the program received 428 nominations. This year a minimum of 250 more is expected.

Program chairman Dave Wenger, Publisher of the Mount Forest Confederate, said the airline tickets and Bicentennial books are new additions to the program for 1984.

"We hope the added incentive will prompt newspaper publishers and community citizens to send in more nominations than ever," he said.

Junior Citizen nominees should be aged six to 18, and have contributed to their community, performed acts of bravery or shown remarkable fortitude in overcoming physical limitations.

"We are looking for examples of good citizenship or leadership, not just the 'super-heroes'" he said.

Such values as courage, ingenuity, resourcefulness, initiative, leadership, fortitude and selfless performance are what the judges look for when the award recipients are selected. Nominees can be individuals or groups.

Nomination forms are available through The Tribune, local schools or the Ontario Community Newspaper Association at Box 451, Oakville, Ont. L6J 5A8, telephone toll-free 1-800-268-5054.
