the piano and working on cash at Stouffville's A & P. Following graduation, she hopes to take a course in nutrition at the University of Guelph. —Jim Thomas

"Girl Next Door"

Amy's ambitious

By Jim Thomas
WHITCHURCH — To know 16-year-old Amy Passafiume of R.R. 4, Stouffville, is to like her. However, to get to know her is the problem. She's a veritable whirlwind of activity, touching down at different spots at different times.

Fortunately, (for us), she stopped long enough for a half-hour interview, Saturday, at her family's lovely country home on McCowan Road, Whitchurch-Stouffville.

Amy's our "Girl Next Door." This summer, Amy held down two jobs. She served as a lifeguard at the Stouffville Pool and a cashier in the Stouffville A & P. In addition, she helped out at her parents' strawberry farm, an on-going work that continues into the fall when the pick-your-own apple crop comes into season.

Amy's a member of a "close family" that includes brothers David, Paul and Matthew and sisters Cathy and Mariana. Prior to moving here ten years ago from Markham, she attended Roy H. Crosby Public School and later Orchard Park. She's presently a student in Grade 12 at Sacred Heart High School, Newmarket.

Amy's involved in many of the inter-mural sports at Sacred Heart and hopes to catch a part in the school play this spring.

She has her Grade 6 piano. Following graduation, Amy hopes to go on to the University of Guelph and take a course in nutrition. Baking's a favorite past-time.

While she practices her cooking talents on family members and boyfriend David Elrick of Greenwood, no one's complaining. They love the results of her culinary skills, especially her Chinese food.

Amy enjoyed her time spent at the Town pool this summer. She's loud in her praise of the staff there, particularly the swim program director, Marlane McKee-Wetheral.

Transportation presents no real problem, Amy says. If the family's two cars are unavailable, she merely hops on her bicycle and pedals into town.

Three trips to Florida is the farthest she's been from home. Some day though, she's hopes to vacation in Europe.

Tiny Talent Competition

MARKHAM — Does your son or daughter possess a special talent?

If so, have him or her display it in public at the Teeny Talent Show, Thurs., Sept. 27 at Markham Fair. Time of the event is 7 p.m.

The age restriction is 16 years and under with a four minute time limit on each act. All entrants will receive prizes plus a pass to the grounds.

Participants must live in the area bounded by Steeles Avenue on the south; Yonge Street on the west and the Markham-Pickering townline on the east.

The deadline for receiving entries is Tues., Sept. 25.

For additional information call Robyn Scott at 475-6483.
