

Love of little Lindsay lives on with family

Acceptance by friends appreciated

By Michael and Jill Jones
Lindsay touched all our lives. She was a special child. She never did anything wrong. She was just Lindsay and you all accepted that. It all meant so much to us to have friends who treated Lindsay with so much love and care. We believe Lindsay's short life was not just a mistake, a genetic error. Her life had a purpose. She taught us all to feel and care and hope and, in a very special way, to understand people who are less fortunate than others; to accept and not be afraid of someone 'different' than us.
We hope that when you see a 'special' person, anywhere, anytime, you will smile and touch them and let them know you accept them for what they are. This means so much! For they are only as different to us as we make them appear. Don't pity them but respect and admire them. They deserve it.
We hope that knowing Lindsay, has helped you, and made you more caring as it did us. And we thank you for making Lindsay welcome in your lives.

Dear Lindsay:
What can we say? We love you, we miss you and we will never forget you. You filled a part of our lives most people will never know. You brought us joy and sorrow in so many ways. Our joys were so simple, a smile, a laugh, a reaction of any kind to our calling your name. Our sorrows—we felt so helpless, there was so little we could do to help. We could hold you, talk to you and cuddle you. We watched you suffer so much, much more than most people could withstand. You were such a fighter. You made us stronger each day. You touched our lives in ways no other ever will. You made us realize to accept everyone as they are, not to be afraid of what someone isn't, but to respect and love what they are and what they can be if they have people around them who care. And we cared—so much! Our lives will be so empty without you. You were so much a part of us all!

We knew this day would come. But we'd hoped to give you so much more. You were beginning to read and respond to us so much lately. You knew much more than anyone realized. We were so filled with hope. We would have stood behind you and fought for you with all our hearts forever and ever.
We loved you so much. But now we can only hope you are happy and at peace, no more suffering. Our thoughts will always be with you. We will never forget you.

Lindsay, wherever you are, we thank you for being a special part of our lives. We feel we were privileged to have known and cared for you. You were and always will be a Special Little Lady!

With all our love,
Mommy and Daddy, Amy and Ryan

Top plowman

STOUFFVILLE — It was back in 1949 that Stouffville's Floyd Forsyth entered his first International Plowing Match. The location was Lindsay. In the 35 years since, he's missed only two, and for good reason. He was plowing in competitions elsewhere. Although sometimes suggesting he should retire, Floyd will compete again next week at Teviotdale, near Harriston. The awards banquet is planned for the Harriston-Minto Community Centre, Sept. 28.
Floyd Forsyth's record as a professional plowman is outstanding. He placed third in the Canadian Championships at Prince Edward Island in 1983 after winning the Ontario Title at Lucan, near London in '82.

In 1970, he participated in the World Match at Denmark and served as a coach for the Canadian entry in 1976. The host country was Sweden.

Floyd's also won countless awards in branch matches and plans to enter the York Regional contest this Saturday, (Sept. 22), on the farm of Larry and Wilf Rose near Mount Albert.

PLAN FASHION SHOW

To raise funds for community projects, the Stouffville Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi is holding a Busy Bodies Fashion Show, Wed., Oct. 17. Models will include Barb Scaife, Pat Evans, Barb Todd and Cathy Malcolm. For additional information and tickets contact Shirley Hughes at 640-5618.

Bloomington-Woodbine bad accident corner

WHITCHURCH — The intersection of Woodbine Avenue and the Bloomington Road is presently the most hazardous in all of York Region according to a statistical report prepared by the Regional Engineering Department in co-operation with regional police.

During a 29-month period, from Jan. 1, 1982 to May 31, 1984, a total of 66 motor vehicle collisions occurred at this corner. Sixteen of these were after dark.

The report points out that 58 of the 66 accidents occurred after Hwy. 404 was opened to the Bloomington Road. The volume of traffic increased considerably at that time.

Once Hwy. 404 is completed through to the Aurora Road, (fall of 1985), the accident rate should decrease, the report says.

Other accident prone intersections in the area follow: Woodbine Avenue and Davis Drive, (31); Woodbine Avenue and the Stouffville Road, (28); Bayview Avenue and the Aurora Road, (22); Mount Albert Road and Conc. 2, East Gwillimbury, (17); Woodbine Avenue and 16th Avenue, Markham, (15).

The stretch of Woodbine Avenue between the Bloomington Road and the Aurora Road also took its toll. There were 55 collisions, 33 of which occurred on the section between the Bloomington Road and the Vandorf Road. The other 22 occurred between the Vandorf Road and the Aurora Road.

Once again, with the extension of Hwy. 404 through to the Aurora Road, this accident total should drop dramatically, the report concludes.

You'll love the aerobics and dance/cize classes, the day-care services, organized clinics, round-robins, house leagues and all-level tournaments. Each club has a licensed lounge and restaurant ideal for post game relaxation. In fact a Mayfair membership is almost a love affair. Almost.

Mayfair East will open for play with 10 new Omnicourt surfaced tennis courts and 4 international squash courts, at the end of September.
