

Margot's worth watching could be a future mayor

Dear Editor: Councillor Margot Marshall may indeed be a 'rebel'. Regardless, in my opinion, she's a rebel with a cause. She opposed the building of the new Rec. Centre, feeling (as many do) that the cost was excessive. She opposed the appointment of a successor to Mayor King, feeling (as many do) that there should have been an election. What's next on her 'hit list' is anybody's guess. But one thing is sure, she's an individual worth watching. One person has described her as the Carole Bell of Whitchurch. Sincerely, Wendy Howell, R.R. 3, Newmarket

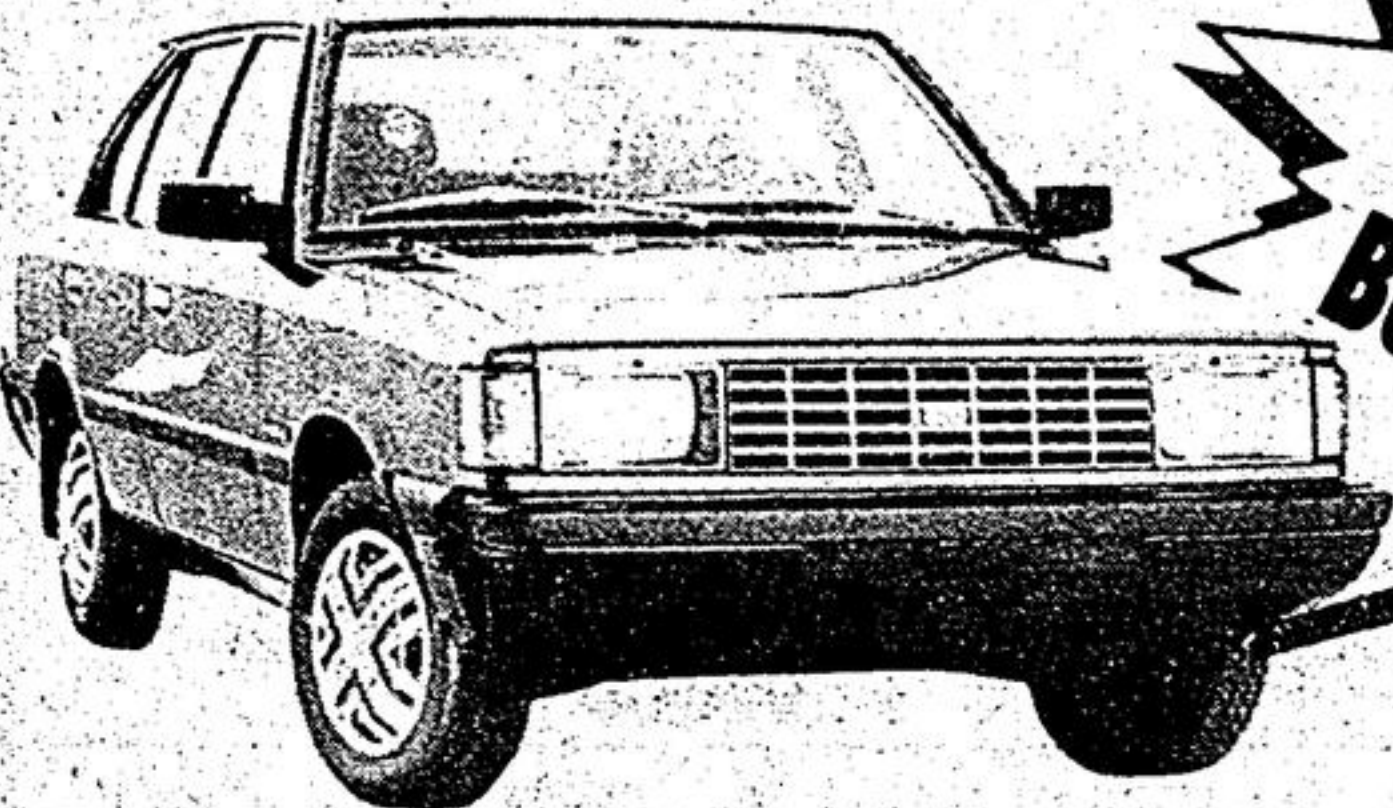

It was Heritage Week at Ballantrae School, a project to mark Ontario's Bicentennial. Dressed in keeping with the occasion are (left to right)-Susan Carter, 13; Todd Wawryk, 12; Sean Tomlinson, 11 and Kristey Saunders, 12. —Jim Thomas

History repeats itself

This is the Pony that sits up and roars. This is the Pony Plus, all dressed up to celebrate the beginning of Hyundai's ninth year of making the Pony and its second year on sale in Canada. This specially priced Pony sports gold tone wheel covers. Glossy midnight black body paint to match black trim and tires. Sun roof, fog lights and rear window louver. Special gold striping, and more. All powered by a new 1600 cc, five-speed engine crafted from Hyundai's own steel. If you think you look good in black, hurry to a Hyundai dealer. Only 1,000 of these beauties are hitting the streets. So there are going to be a lot of broken hearts.
