

Book Ends

It was Book Week at Dickson's Hill and E.T. Crowle Public Schools last week and staff teachers were enthusiastic participants including (left to right) Helen Cowie, Diana Barker, Shirley MacDowell, Harvey Parks, Linda Berg, Dorothy Good, Marion Smith, Marilyn Miller, Glenna Collins, Barb Hunt and Pauline Beder. Like the students, the teachers portrayed their favorite story-book characters.

—Book Week—

DICKSON'S HILL — The staff and students of E.T. Crowle and Dickson's Hill, celebrated Children's Book Week, Nov. 19-23, in a unique way. Each adopted a book of his/her choice and dressed to depict a popular storybook character. Pupils from Kindergarten through Grade 8 were included in the project. All staff members were involved, headed by Pauline Beder, the chief organizer. In addition to taking on roles of story-book 'personalities', there was a New Book Fair, a book swap, films and plays.

Nov. 19-23 was National Children's Book Week and the event was celebrated with enthusiasm at Dickson's Hill and E.T. Crowle Public Schools, R.R. 2, Markham. Acting out their favorite story characters are Heather Beaton, (left), age 5, of Penny Crescent, Markham, Heather's a Care Bear. The Queen of Hearts, (right), is eight-year-old Kelly Cooper, Mint Leaf Gate, Markham.
