

No big deal

Dear Editor:

The inclusion of French Immersion students in Dickson's Hill School is no big deal at least not as far as I'm concerned. Some parents seem to feel it's an intrusion. This was the feeling I had following the meeting Jan. 30.

Without French Immersion, the school could be closed. The present enrolment isn't sufficient to keep it open.

I don't want a form of discrimination to creep into this situation. French vs. English. These are English-speaking children whose parents wish them immersed in French, nothing more, nothing less.

So let's not get up tight over a sharing of facilities. I feel we're fortunate to have students available to take up the space.

Sincerely,
Alma Buckley,
R.R. 11, Unionville

Appreciation

Dear Jim:

Please accept our sincere thanks for the excellent coverage The Tribune provided the Sixth Annual Invitational Competition held recently in Uxbridge.

Chris Shanahan of your staff was very helpful and patient during our busy medal presentations. We sincerely appreciate his interest and enthusiasm.

This year we had medal and ice-time support from over 140 sponsors representing business in and around

Uxbridge. Many parents of our skaters volunteered their time and effort throughout the competition weekend, and it is through this dedication that the Uxbridge Figure Skating Club can be proud.

We are pleased to report that of the 29 Uxbridge skaters competing, seventeen won medals.

Through The Tribune, we extend congratulations to all skaters and their families.

Sincerely,
Heather Somerville
Publicity Chairman

All it takes is practice

On Friday, the Senior Band from Stouffville Dist. Secondary School, were guests of senior students at Orchard Park School. Members presented an hour-long concert under the direction of leader, Peter Samuelson. Here, 16-year-old Marcy Pyke, R.R. 4, Stouffville, demonstrates various finger movements when playing the flute. Her music pupil is Becky Gaston, 12, of Winlane Drive, Stouffville, a student in Grade 6.
