Umpires' Association aids floodlight project

A new floodlit ball diamond is set for operation this summer in Stouffville's south park. In 1984, the Umpires' Association sponsored a Ladies Slo-Pitch Tournament. Recently, a cheque in the amount of $300 was presented by Al Piette, (right), President of the Umpires' Association to Frank Haylow, Chairman of the Whitchurch-Stouffville Community Ball Association. The money will be used to subsidize the cost of floodlights installed at this site.

Appreciation

The following is a letter received by the Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville, April 9. It was written by Hazel Hodson-Walker, a King Township school trustee on the York Region Board of Education. It reads:

Dear Sir:
Many children from The York Region Board of Education had the unique and exciting opportunity to attend school at the Museum. As a Trustee on the Board, I am delighted with the program supported so ably by the staff of the Museum whom I found to be informed, helpful and dedicated.

I am also a parent of a daughter who was lucky enough to participate in this enriching activity. She was involved in cooking and baking, country dancing, weaving and sewing to mention but a few components of the three days. The children dressed pioneer style and learned so much about those days in a hands-on fashion. This was real involvement of our teaching staff and of the staff of the Museum. Mary Hopkins was charming and gave readily of her time and expertise.

I wholeheartedly endorse and support these kinds of programs and hope and trust they will continue to flourish and grow in the future.

My thanks to the Council.
