Summer relief

STOUFFVILLE — Rev. Philip Poole has a summer assistant.

June Abel of Scarborough, a third year student attending Trinity College, Toronto, has commenced a three-month parish training program at Christ Church Anglican, Stouffville.

While Mrs. Abel considers herself "lucky" to be placed in a parish so close to home, Rev. Poole feels he's the beneficiary of the placement program. It will allow him four weeks vacation plus peace of mind knowing a responsible shepherd's in charge of his flock.

Mrs. Abel, mother of two, is interested in becoming acquainted with as many people as possible. It's her first time in Stouffville.

Thomas, her husband, is a chartered accountant.

Twinney raps pay raise

YORK REGION — York Regional councillors have voted themselves a five per cent raise, effective Dec. 1.

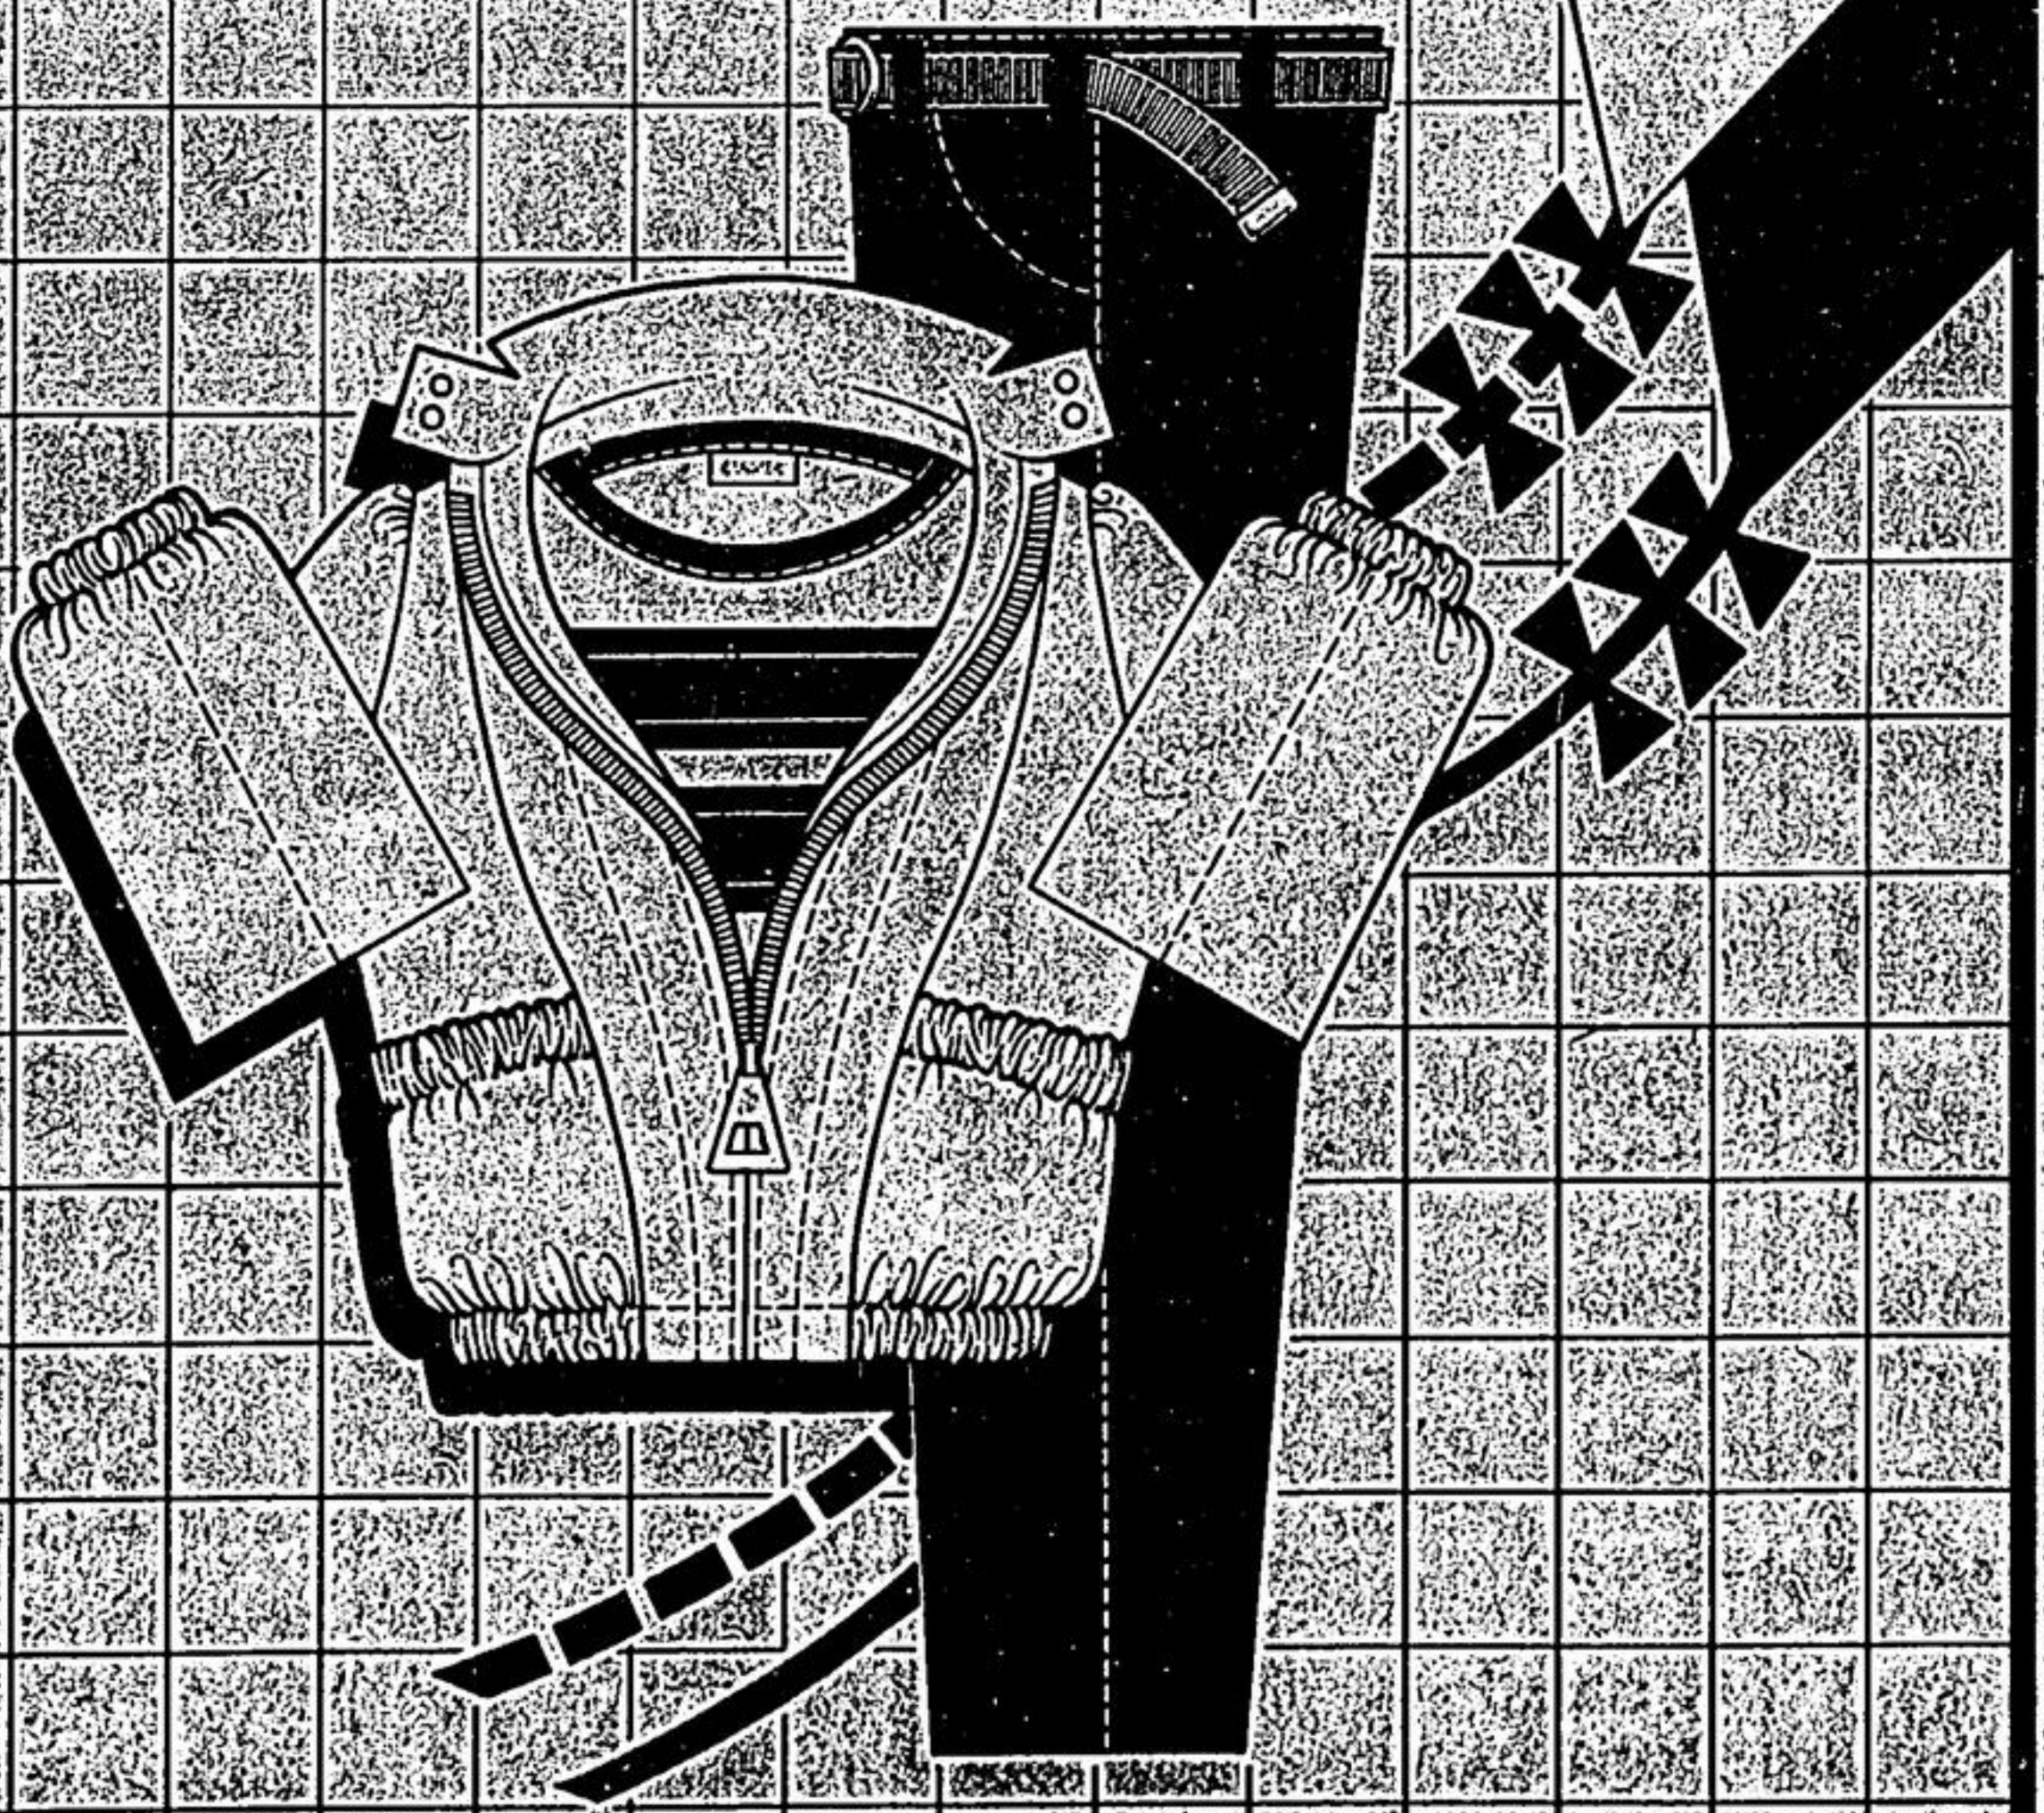

Acting on a motion by Ron Moran of Markham, members agreed 10-3 to boost their own salaries from $15,805 to $16,595 and the chairman's salary from $61,736 to $64,823. Each is one-third tax free.

Leading the opposition was Aurora Mayor Dick Illingworth. He flatly stated that Regional Council was "overpaid."

The cost of living has risen only 3.8 per cent," Mayor Illingworth said emphatically. "The pay was $6,000 a year when I started back in 1971 and it has more than doubled. For the work we do here at Regional Council we're overpaid."

Mayor Illingworth called for a recorded vote. He gained support from only Georgian Mayor John Rogers and Vaughan Councillor Jim Davidson.
