Solve your entry door security problems with steel!

Replacing your wood entry door with a pre-assembled Stanley steel insulated door is a wise investment. They provide greater energy savings, better security, and a longer, trouble free life than the doors they replace.

More energy efficient than wood and storm doors combined! The R-factor of each Stanley door is 16.3 and features a complete weatherstripping system. Designed for easy installation with ordinary hand tools. The special adapter frame fits right over the existing wood door frame, and is ready for painting to complement your home.
