

IT'S COMING SATURDAY, JUNE 15TH

the WEEKENDER

Economist & Sun/Tribune

FREE TO GOOD HOMES

Box Grove resident wants lower speeds

After attempting to have the speed limit reduced on the 9th Line for the past three years, Elizabeth Doucette had all but given up. But following a June fatal accident in which two young men were killed, Mrs. Doucette is renewing her efforts. Despite traffic surveys which indicate a lower speed limit is not warranted on the 9th Line, she has written Bob Hodgson, commissioner of engineering for York Region, pleading for lower speed limits on the Markham road.

When contacted, Mr. Hodgson said that traffic studies were done on the 9th Line and verified the figures did not warrant lowering the speed limit. "On technical grounds, we couldn't justify lowering it," said Mr. Hodgson.

Line this summer to see if the situation has changed. According to Mr. Hodgson, traffic studies examine the typography, the number of entrances and the amount of traffic. Following the study, the engineering committee puts together a report with a recommendation to York Regional Council.

Markham nude rules are upheld

A Town of Markham bylaw prohibiting nude dancing in restaurants has been upheld in Ontario Supreme Court. Mr. Justice J. Edwards handed down his decision on Monday, dismissing the application by John Lazarou, owner of the Sherwood Tavern, to quash the restaurant bylaw and to prohibit the town from prosecuting him under that bylaw.

and features exotic dancers in a section of the bylaw prohibits nude dancing in restaurants. Town solicitor Ron King believes there may be an appeal but says, "I will be pressing for an injunction to prevent him (Mr. Lazarou) from operating prior to an appeal about the decision," said lawyer Greg Richards, an assistant to Garry Smyth, who acted on behalf of the Town.

Cover proposed for A-soil dump

Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. has announced it is preparing to place an asphalt cover over the radioactive soil in McCleure Creek in Scarborough, near Markham.

Waste Not Wanted Inc. is discouraged by the latest move. "They're bound and determined that that's where it's going to go," says Danny Pitcher. "It looks like we're the ones who are going to get stung."

Markham man mending well

Brendon Noye, the Markham man injured in the June 1 fatal crash on the 9th Line, is home from hospital and doing fine.

Susan Sulewski, 18, of Agincourt, remains in St. Michael's Hospital. She suffered head injuries and a broken collar bone and ankle. Mrs. Noye explained that doctors have determined there are no signs of brain damage. "They are both doing well," she said. "They were lucky."

Aloha Summerfest larger group organized by Papa, Nikki, Ranaiki, Cheryl

O'Regan back to draw

CHRISTINE KOSERSKI Staff Reporter The Town of Markham may have a "white elephant" on its hands unless a business building is allowed to turn an old West into a restaurant.

Markham residents are polishing up their dancing shoes in preparation for the sixth annual Markham Village Festival, June 22 to 23. The fun begins Friday night with "Boy Are My Arms Tired" the Best of Second City presented by the Mar-

Festival fever!

Markham's residents are polishing up their dancing shoes in preparation for the sixth annual Markham Village Festival, June 22 to 23. The fun begins Friday night with "Boy Are My Arms Tired" the Best of Second City presented by the Mar-

ALL THE LATEST IN NEWS, SPORTS, REAL ESTATE, CLASSIFIED, ENTERTAINMENT SHOPPING

TO HELP YOU PLAN YOUR WEEKEND!!

NEW SIZE

DELIVERED FREE EVERY SATURDAY MORNING

In Markham, Stouffville, Unionville, Milliken & Uxbridge

NOW ENJOY IT WEDNESDAYS & SATURDAYS

Economist & Sun/Tribune
294-2200 640-2100
495-9440 649-2292