

Expect 1,000 at picnic

MUSS LAKE — Between five hundred and a thousand people are expected to attend the 21st Century Centre's picnic, this weekend (July 27 and 28), at former Glendale Beach, Musselman's Lake.

Guest speaker will be noted African pastor and author, David Akinremi. Rev. Akinremi will discuss his perception of Ontario's food aid program to Africa and will introduce three new books on Christian issues.

Theme of the gathering will be "Countdown To The 21st Century: Will You Be Ready?"

Presentations will relate to freeze-dried food products and their various uses. "We want to inform people concerning the advantages of freeze-dried foods," said Gordon Hamilton, the Centre's manager. "These products could provide solutions to many of today's problems, both in Africa and at home."

Rev. Akinremi will take samples of the food back to Africa when he returns July 31.

"I'll test them out on my people," explained the pastor. "If everything goes well, I'll return in October and arrange for more supplies."

The cost of his trip will be covered by the picnic's admission fee—adults, $3 per day and $2 for children.

Activities during the weekend will include swimming, wind-surfing, paddle-boating, horseshoe-pitching, chess, ping-pong, soccer, instrumental and gospel music. A special children's program is also planned.

Classic car show set for Aug. 11

VANDORF — The 12th annual Antique and Classic Car Show is planned for Sunday, Aug. 11 on the grounds of the Whitchurch-Stouffville Museum.

Time of the event is 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Owners of cars, participating in the show, will be admitted free. For others, the price is $2 adults, children 12 years and under free.

Two special awards will be presented—The People's Choice and The Drivers' Choice. There will also be awards for runners-up in both classes.

Activities will include more than viewing antique and classic cars. Working steam and gas engines will be on display along with a fish pond for the children and plenty to eat and drink.

The Bogartown Women's Institute will hold a bake sale and a raffle will be held on a Robert Bateman print.

Bluegrass music groups will serenade the crowd.

The Whitchurch-Stouffville Museum is located on the west side of Don Mills Road, (Woodbine Avenue), three miles north of the Bloomington Road in the hamlet of Vandorf.

In case of rain, the show will be held Aug. 18.

Plan Festival '86

Dear Jim:

On behalf of the committee, I wish to thank you and The Tribune for your participation in, and the excellent coverage provided, the Strawberry Festival.

I invite anyone with criticisms of this year's Festival or suggestions to offer for next year's Festival, to attend a wrap-up meeting, Wednesday, (to-night), at 7:30 p.m., in the Stouffville Legion Hall.

Thanks to the generosity of participating groups, I anticipate a balanced budget.

I intend, at this meeting, to establish the feasibility of making the Festival an annual event and to finalize reports to major sponsors—the Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville and the Federal Government.

Sincerely,
Jim Kidd,
Festival Committee Chairman

Bible School lives on at Wideman Church

MARKHAM — The Wideman Mennonite Church is altering tradition this summer by adding a new dimension to its annual Bible School.

The basic features remain but much of the material is presented through drama and puppeteering.

"The purpose of the program is to introduce children to the Bible and the gospel of Christ," explains co-ordinator Rev. Jim Shantz. "We wanted to get away from using the book approach so much."

The new program also involves more music. Children participate in many action songs.

This year, the School is being operated by Tom Nevile of the Open Door Ministries, Fort Wayne, Indiana. As a talented musician and dramatist, he designed the new curriculum.

The Bible School began July 22 and concludes July 26.

Classes are offered to children of all denominations ages 5 to 14. It's free but an offering is taken. The remainder of the cost is offset by the Christian Education Fund.
