

Editor's Mail

Confusing

Dear Editor:
I agree with the Festival committee's decision to group the '86 events into a shorter time frame. This year, while I enjoyed the activities I attended, I thought there was too much of a lags between one main event and another, almost like the Festival was over when, in reality, there was more still to come. I think this confused a lot of people.

The outdoor worship service on the Sunday was excellent; also the Canada Day 'social' July 1. Both activities allowed people to meet their friends which, to many, is what 'community' is all about.

Sincerely,
Lois Gillespie,
R.R. 3, Stouffville

Admired

To The Editor:
Every Saturday, we drive through your town on our way to the Flea Market. This summer, my husband and I have often commented on the beauty and cleanliness of your Main Street. I've never seen it look so lovely.

The hanging baskets, once admired only in Victoria, B.C., add a touch of color to the business area.

To the people or the organization responsible, I offer congratulations.

We hope some day to be permanent residents of the Stouffville community. Until then, we'll have to be satisfied with just 'passing through' one day a week.

Sincerely,
Phyllis Davey,
Allanhurst Drive,
Toronto

The Tribune

ESTABLISHED 1888

JAMES THOMAS

Editor

BRUCE ANNAN

Publisher

PAT PAPPAS

Advertising Manager

JENNI HUTT

Distribution Manager

EDITORIAL DEPT.: Chris Shanahan, Kelly Connolly

DISPLAY ADVERTISING DEPT.: Lois Wideman

REAL ESTATE CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING: Joan Marshman

DISTRIBUTION: Doreen Deacon

NATIONAL SALES REPRESENTATIVE: Metroland Corporate Sales 493-1300

Published every Wednesday by Metroland Printing, Publishing & Distributing at 54 Main St., Stouffville, Ont., tel. 640-2100. Single copies 50¢; subscriptions $17.00 per year in Canada, $47.50 elsewhere. Member of Canadian Community Newspapers Association, Ontario Weekly Newspaper Association, Ontario Press Council and Suburban Newspaper of America. Second class mail registration number 0896.

The Stouffville Tribune is one of the Metroland group of suburban newspapers which includes The Acton Free Press, The Peterborough Examiner, The Guelph Mercury, The Burlington Weekend Post, The Etobicoke Advertiser/Guardian, The Georgetown Independent, The Milton Champion, The Mississauga News, The Newmarket Era, The Willowdale Mirror, Oakville Beaver, Oakville Leader, Thorold Liberal, The Scarborough Mirror, The Markham Economist and Sun and Woodbridge Liberal. Metroland Printing, Publishing and Distributing is a division of Harlequin Enterprises Ltd.

640-2100

649-2292

Editorials

No right to strike

Ambulance personnel, operating out of Stouffville and Uxbridge, have a reason to strike, but no right to strike. While these may sound like conflicting statements, separated they make sense. Ambulance operators are irritated by the fact their buddies, employed by the Ministry of Health, earn $1.28 an hour more for doing the same work.

What bothers them too is the fact they've been without a contract since Jan. 1. Also, Ministry employees are negotiating for a three per cent increase which, if successful, will widen the wage gap even more.

The set-up, that sounds absolutely stupid, is the fact the ambulance here and in Uxbridge is operated by private enterprise. Just where Ministry jurisdiction begins and ends, no one seems too sure. These men (and women) operate regulation vehicles, wear regulation uniforms and pass regulation exams but don't receive regulation wages. Is it any wonder the province opts for an outside firm to help handle the load? Under this set-up, the Ministry can't lose. But the operators lose. They do a first class job for second class salaries. It's grossly unfair.

The reason to strike has been established. The right to strike has not. Ambulance personnel, like firefighters, police officers, doctors and nurses, school teachers, postal employees, (to name only a few), perform an essential service. When they choose these professions, they automatically forfeit the right to strike, or should.

Let's be realistic. What will happen if a child is struck and seriously injured on Main Street, Stouffville? Will the picketing ambulance operators refuse to respond? Surely not, for the preservation of life holds priority over labor strife! At least we hope it does.

This, we suggest, points out how ridiculous strikes are in essential services. They must be outlawed in favor of labor courts, with the decision binding on all parties.

Reason to be proud

Stouffville's Main Street has become a town beauty spot. We've heard this said many times this summer, not only by people passing through but by local residents as well. Often, we tend to look to other towns, other communities, when handing out praise. We also tend to make comparisons such as "why can't Stouffville be like..."

We can still praise other places and we can still make comparisons, but this summer, Stouffville need not take a back seat to any town.

The flowers are beautiful. The trees are maturing. The street and sidewalks are exceptionally clean. The painted lamp posts and fire hydrants are attractive.

Our loss

Something's missing from The Tribune's editorial page this week. Undoubtedly, most readers will have already noticed. For many, it's the first thing they turn to and have turned to for the past sixteen years.

Yes, Pat Wheeler, our cartoonist, has retired, not entirely, but at least from cartooning for The Tribune. She'll continue her humorous masterpieces for the Toronto Star and for our sister paper, the Markham Economist and Sun, but time doesn't permit her to continue all three. We are the losers, and we're the first to admit she can never be replaced.

In her sixteen years, Pat never missed a deadline. With holidays pending, she'd complete several cartoons in advance. She never complained, even when we requested the impossible. Her cat and mouse symbols were a joy to all ages. But all good things must end. There's a space on Page 4 that can never be filled.

There's a new feeling of pride. With major improvements planned for the century-old Mansion House and Sanders Block, a new store opening, an old store re-opening and an enclosed mini-mall proposed for the town's west end, all signs point to even better days ahead.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.

Who was the best of that day? I asked.

Jim came by his plowing skills honestly. His father, the late Bill Clark, (reeve of the Twp. of Markham), was one of the best in the business.

Like it was yesterday, Jim recalls the International Match on the Jail Farm property at Langstaff in 1927. The late Fred Timbers, (father of Stouffville's George and Carl Timbers), won first prize all four days and Bill Clark placed second.</p