

Neighborly Notes

By JIM THOMAS

Tribute deserved

Standing ovations don't occur automatically—they're earned. John Lunau, former manager of the Markham Museum, was accorded such a tribute recently after Mayor Carole Bell presented him with a citation from the National Parks Centennial Citizens' Committee. The award goes to the individual "making outstanding contributions to the heritage of the community." Said John of the standing ovation, "it took the wind out of me." Seated in the audience was John's mother, Mrs Eileen Lunau, justifiably proud of her son's accomplishments.

New Fire Chief

I'm told that Ken Beckett will soon move up to the position of Fire Chief in the Town of Markham, succeeding Myrl Smith. Congratulations. Good to see the Town has hired someone "from within" rather than sliding a five-star general down the pole and creating a mini-revolt among the close-knit fire-fighting fraternity. Captain Beckett has earned the promotion and I wish him well.

It's an honor

Last week, Carrie Purcell, McCowan Road, R.R. 2, Markham, made my day. She asked if I'd serve as a judge at this year's Miss Markham Fair Pageant, Sept. 21. She didn't have to ask twice. "Of course," I said, "it's an honor." And it is, the third time I've been so honored. Hope to have my new glasses by then, with telescopic lens!

Maintenance man

In the business of golf course care there's a difference between a greenskeeper and a maintenance man. In the Aug. 7 issue of The Tribune, I described Cashel's Harry Forrester as a greenskeeper at The Windmills Golf and Country Club, Kennedy Road, but he's not. He's a maintenance man, I'm told, and a mighty good one too. Harry marked his 80th birthday July 30.

Errand of ecstasy

Those who know Hadley Osbourne, Whitechurch-Stouffville's Sears' driver, can appreciate this gesture. For Hadley is this kind of gentleman. Recently, he came to Stouffville and took George Flowers of Albert Street North and his sister, Nancy Cook of Smethwick, England, on a tour of Toronto including a visit to the CN Tower. Mr Flowers is confined to a wheelchair and Mrs Cook is visiting here until mid-September. Neither had seen the Tower (up close) before. "It was wonderful," said George. Hadley is continually doing favors for his friends, folks he's met while making door-to-door deliveries.

Killer at large

It was four-and-a-half months ago that Rev. Jack Taylor, formerly of R.R. 2, Markham, was shot and killed in his study at St. George's Anglican Church, Maple Ridge, British Columbia. After all this time, there have been no new developments in the police investigation. Rev. Taylor's brother-in-law, Bruce Medland of Markham told me Monday.

Beautiful flowers

In a recent column, I mentioned the beautiful flowers at the home of Jack and Mary Baker, Tenth Line South, Stouffville. I'd like to extend that list and include the residences of Bun and Dixie Sellers, Harold Avenue, Stouffville, and Mr and Mrs Ken Smurthwaite, Bethesda Road, R.R. 2, Stouffville.

Packard for sale

Four years ago, Sam Barkey of Mongolia, purchased a 1948 Packard from a private owner in the United States. It's a beautiful car, like it just rolled off the assembly line, and it's for sale. The asking price is $10,000. "Purrs like a kitten," says Sam. Anyone interested in a spin along the 10th Concession, the owner will gladly oblige.

Like old times

Ernie Beaven, Lloyd Avenue, Stouffville, was seen pumping gas, and exchanging pleasantries at Wilson's Esso, Main West, Monday morning; just like old times when Ernie was the station's "early morning man". He hasn't lost his touch. I'm told, spilling nary a drop to date.

Talent contest

Sunday evening, (Aug. 18), is the 6th annual Country and Western Music Talent Contest at Markham Fairgrounds, beginning at 7 p.m. The competition is for amateurs only, 16 years and up. First prize is $150; second prize, $100 and third prize, $50. Each will also receive a trophy. The contact person is Linda Johnson, 5 Byer Drive, Markham, (294-2012).
