By EVELYN MILSTED

 Larger barns
 for more horses

WHITCHURCH — The Foxhunter Equestrian Centre will be able to accommodate an additional 11 horses as soon as its new barn is completed in February.

Alan and Margaret Plewis have operated the property for 12 years with a steadily increasing clientele.

In an interview, Mr. Plewis said they have stalls for 45 horses in the barn now standing and with 55 horses to care for, they have run out of room. They are holding some of the horses in their indoor arena and boarding the rest at a friend's farm.

With 21 stalls in the new barn, Mr Plewis said, they'll be able to board an additional 11 horses.

The Centre offers boarding, grooming, training, monthly horse shows and clinics and riding school programs and a riding club.
