

Double escort for Clipper marksman

Stouffville's Dan Larmer (white uniform) is escorted out of Woodbridge's goal crease by two big bodyguards during OMHA playdowns March 10. The Bantam Clipper forward (inset) helped his club sweep the playoff series. The team is awaiting the conclusion of another semi-final that'll determine its next post-season rival. —Kelly Connelly

Agony turns to ecstasy

From agony to ecstasy. Such was the contrasting expressions on the faces of Woodbridge players as they emerged the victors in a penalty-filled Midget playoff encounter here Sunday.

The visiting 'Raiders', trailing in the series 2 games to 0, edged Dave Fockler's Becker's boys 6-5. The two teams go at it again, Friday, at Woodbridge.

If a fifth game is needed, it will be back in Stouffville, Sunday, at four.

Woodbridge ran into a steady stream of penalties, twenty-three in total, including two game misconducts and two majors. Stouffville was penalized 18 times.

The home club failed to take full advantage of the extra man. However, when the tables were turned, the Woodbridge powerplay proved extremely effective.

Captain Dave Fockler, Jim Baggs, Jeff Christensen and Sean McQuigge were the Stouffville marksmen. Frank Bernardi and Andrew Kapitan each potted a pair for the 'Raiders'. Bernardi fired the winner.

Woodbridge coach Wally Parolin vented his anger in the general direction of the referee throughout the contest. His club incurred three bench penalties.

With less than a minute to go in the game, a free-for-all threatened. However, the officials managed to keep the combatants apart except for Christensen of Stouffville and Welden of Woodbridge. Both were banished to early showers.

Although Woodbridge possesses stronger skaters, Stouffville had a wide territorial edge in play, outshooting their rivals 27 to 18.
