Earns and saves

By JIM THOMAS
STOUFFVILLE — Andrew Robertson appreciates his customers. They appreciate him.
 Andrew, 15, of Rupert Avenue, Stouffville, is a carrier for both The Tribune and The Tribune Weekender. He has 50 subscribers, all on Elm Road.
 "They all treat me nice," Andrew says, naming families like the Goldman's, the McMurray's and the Piette's. At Christmas, they're extremely generous, a way of saying thank you for a job well done.
 Andrew admits initially he had a few complaints. "Mostly from folks I missed," he explained. Then he developed a system. Instead crossing back and forth, he does the north side walking east and the south side walking west. Now, everybody's happy.

 Although the carrier job is Andrew's responsibility, other family members are pleased to help out including sisters Amanda and Susan, and his parents, Art and Martha Robertson.
 Andrew has three bank accounts plus twelve (preferred) shares of Bell Canada stock. With the money he keeps for himself, he purchases tapes. Motley Crue, Twisted Sister and Iron Maiden are three favorites.
 Dogs aren't a problem, Andrew says. "They're all my friends."
 Everyone, it seems, is Andrew's friend. "A real fine lad," said a neighbor across the street.
