

Cubs earn the Blue Star award

BALLANTRAE — Outdoor recreations like hiking and camping are by no means the only endeavors enjoyed by members of the 1st Ballantrae Cubs.

On April 22, pack members and their leaders looked equally at home indoors as they visited a Whitechurch-Stouffville Council meeting.

Mayor Fran Sainsbury took the opportunity to present several with their Blue Star, an award designed to help the boys explore and take part in the organized world.

Members of the neatly costumed delegation also took part in a spirited question-and-answer session, asking the mayor and her council colleagues questions about salaries and other interesting topics.

When asked by one boy how much she earned an hour, Mayor Sainsbury began by calculating "24 hours a day by 365 days a year."

The quest for a Blue Star helps the participants discover the purpose of community service, and about the great deal of resources available to them.

Some course highlights included visits to the Fire Hall and Library and the municipal office.

Meanwhile, others in the 16-member Cub pack have qualified for Conservation Badges.

The future of Ballantrae's Beaver, Cub and Scout movement depends on volunteers. There's an immediate need for at least two Scout leaders, a pair of Cub heads, one Beaver leader, a treasurer and group chairman.
