High School's 'Open House' hosts close to five hundred

A fashion show was one of many features at the S.D.S.S. 'Open House' Wednesday. Two of the participants were Kim Gutkind and Martin Wells.

Debra Surman, (left), and Karren Collins were attractive in sportswear from National Gym of Stouffville. A large audience viewed the show.

Formal wear was provided by The Wedding Room, Main Street West, Stouffville. Models here are Tracey Breadner and Ross Thomson.

The European Cafe proved very popular. Here, waitress Beth Bowman takes an order from Eric Knabe, Head of the school's Technical Department.

There was lots to see and do in the High School's Automotive Department. Working on one of several motors are students Bill Terentiuk, (left), and David Pickard.

Dancing in the gymnasium was in charge of staff Phys. Ed. instructor Dave Connell. Students, parents and teachers joined in including Lisa Weatherill, Rupert Avenue.

The Junior and Senior Bands performed in the gymnasium under the direction of Peter Samuelsen. Here, Tom Letkeman, 16, of Grade 11 plays the baritone sax.

Fifteen-year-old Lori Woolford, of Grade 10, was one of several receptionists in the European Cafe. A model French chef looks on with obvious approval.

Lovely Debra Surman is all ready for the High School's May Prom. Debra was one of fifteen student models in the fashion prom on Wednesday night.
