

Charges laid after Claremont collision

A 21-year-old area man escaped with minor injuries Tuesday afternoon when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car at a Whitchurch-Stouffville intersection.

According to York Regional Police, a late-model Mercury Topaz was eastbound on Stouffville Sideroad when a right-hand turn onto Kennedy Road was attempted from the left-turn lane. The car struck a Suzuki motorcycle driven by David Jackson of Sideline 28, Claremont.

Mr. Jackson was thrown from the bike and received assorted cuts and bruises. He was treated at Uxbridge Cottage Hospital and later released.

Police have charged a 19-year-old Scarborough man with making an improper right turn. He was uninjured in the accident.

Claremont man injured

Claremont-area motorcyclist David Jackson, 21, was struck by a late-model car whose driver has been charged with making an improper right turn. The crash occurred Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of Stouffville and Kennedy Roads.
