'Mush' yells the Mayor

Mayor Carole Bell is paraded past pipers by panting pets to open the Chimo Hotel in style last Tuesday. Later, she cut loose a bevy of balloons and declared the Chimo officially opened. The hotel is located at 7095 Woodbine Ave. (Woodbine and Steeles at the 404). — Sjoerd Witteveen

Police trio commended

Three York Regional Police officers are being commended for their actions in bringing a halt to a rash of recent break-ins in Markham's business community.

At a meeting of the York Region Police Commission on Wednesday, Police Chief Donald Hillock recommended that Detective's Jack More and Denis Mulholland and Constable Randy Horne be commended for "the expedient and efficient manner in which they performed their duties."

Chief Hillock explained that between March 14 and 24, 18 Markham businesses were broken into, and although there was only $1,000 worth of property stolen, a total of $13,000 damage was caused during the various entries.

Detective's More and Mulholland and Constable Horne were assigned to the investigation and on March 24 arrested 23-year-old Nelson Kewakundo.

On May 2, Mr. Kewakundo appeared in provincial court and pleaded guilty to 18 counts of break and enter. He was sentenced to two years less a day on each count to run concurrent.
