

First week has students in the dark

By JEFF CARNEY
S.D.S.S. Reporter

The date—Tuesday, Sept. 2, 1986.

The place—Stouffville Dist. Secondary School.

Before nine o'clock, students had been busy; old friendships had resumed and new friendships had started.

But now, the all-too-familiar routine of home rooms, seating plans and morning announcements was once again under way, reminding students and teachers alike that the summer of '86 was over and the school year of '86-87 had officially begun.

Bravely fighting the rising wave of discontent such a realization brings, the Student Council, headed by Duff Wallis, 'treated' the school to not only a nauseatingly cheerful rendition of "Start All Over Again", but such thought-provoking items as the 'word' of the day; the 'thought' of the day and the 'interesting fact' of the day. Needless to say, it was a very long day.

To successfully survive the first week of school is a formidable task. However, for most students, things like 75-minute classes and having one's own locker are commonplace.

Yes, the 1986-87 school year definitely started with a BANG! And a FLASH! And a POWER FAILURE!! As students were moving to their home rooms, Friday morning, power lines connected to the school's generator were severed, leaving the building in total darkness—powerless! However, amid the ensuing pandemonium, new Principal Peter Bright took charge and soon the entire student body and staff were outside socializing; enjoying the warm weather and respite from morning classes. And the most outstanding fact of this incident was that when the lights came on again at 11 a.m., the majority of students were still in attendance, and the day, with shortened periods, continued smoothly, ending the first official week of the 1986-87 school year.

Toronto church is location for lovely ceremony

On Saturday, July 19, 1986, in Kingsway-Lambton United Church, Toronto, a beautiful double-ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Harry M. Denning, as Patricia Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Doble of Zephyr, and Kevin Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Mann of Windsor, were united in marriage.

The music in the church was provided by a string quartet and organ. The soloist, Johanne White, of Toronto, sang "Wedding Hymn" by Handel and "Calm As The Night" by Bohm.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a traditional slipper satin gown with a lily point wasteline. The scalloped lace was accented with a light sprinkling of pearls and sequins. Her headpiece carried a soft flowing fingertip veil completing the bridal ensemble. Patricia carried a cascade bouquet of orchids, baby pink roses, freesia, alstromeria and baby's breath.

Sheila Dockerty of Ridgetown, as matron of honor, attended her sister. The bridesmaids were Beth Miller, Regina, Saskatchewan and Leanne Nemes, London, Ont., friends of the bride. The bridal attendants wore baby pink charmose satin gowns. Their wastelines were accentuated with defined belts that ended in soft trailing bows at the back. Sheila's cascade bouquet and Beth's and Leanne's nosegays were similar to those of the bride.

Dan Howard of Mississauga, cousin of the groom, was best man. Peter Dockerty of Ridgetown, brother-in-law of the bride, and Chris Howard of Toronto, cousin of the groom, were ushers. Kevin and his groomsmen were in black tails with matching Eton vests.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the Weston Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

The bride's mother received in a dusty rose gown, assisted by the groom's mother in a gown of romance blue with camellia and gardenia corsages.

Music was provided by the string quartet and later a dance band. Keith Macdonald of Oshawa presided as master of ceremonies.

Guests were present from Victoria, B.C., Regina, Calgary, Arizona, Florida, Illinois, Detroit and various points across Ontario.

The happy couple are now residing in Toronto.

Local man fined $300

MARKHAM — Driving in excess of the speed limit and passing on 'blind' curves are not unusual infractions; they happen every day.

Christopher Jackson of Markham made the mistake of overtaking a police cruiser. He was clocked at 110 km. per hour.

The offense occurred on Hwy. 48.

In Newmarket Provincial Court, Jackson was fined $300 and had his license suspended for one year.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of driving with over the legal limit of alcohol in his blood.

An open bottle of beer was found in the front seat beside him, the arresting officer testified.

Judge Darryl Draper warned Jackson his next appearance in court on a similar charge would result in a jail sentence.

Truck knocks out power

STOUFFVILLE — Hundreds of Stouffville residents had to forego their usual toast and coffee, Friday morning, when a Spademan garbage truck knocked out a primary hydro line on Edward Street near the High School.

Power was out in various parts of town about 40 minutes.

During this period, more than 100 phone calls were received at the local Hydro Office, The Tribune was told.

Repairs were completed around 9:15 a.m.
