DIANE BLACKBURN

As a native of Montreal, now living in Markham, I began my Real Estate career in sales administration. Over the years as an agent, my sincerity in matching family's needs to homes has resulted in the President's Gold Award for outstanding achievement. I am enthusiastic and I combine this at all times with a professional approach in dealing with my clients. Being bilingual adds to my ability to communicate with buyers and sellers from all over Canada. Meeting people and fulfilling their real estate needs makes my career a lot of fun and very rewarding.

JUNE DAVEY

For the past 25 years I have had remarkable success in Real Estate investments. What was originally intuitive instinct, my success has helped me develop market timing and valuation credibility. It's with this experience I enjoy sharing with my clients, helping them to achieve their real estate goals. "My clients are my friends."

LINDA CARDER

There is more to me than Real Estate although I have enjoyed assisting vendor/purchasers since 1981 in the marketing/purchasing of their homes. I have lived in Claremont since 1973, regularly attend Claremont United Church and therefore will not work Sunday mornings and would prefer not to work Sundays, as I believe that family time is important, although I am a widow and my children all live on their own. I was a school trustee with the Durham Board of Education from 1978-85 and had a day care centre from 1978-81. I believe in ongoing education and study French and Spanish and take Real Estate related courses on a regular basis to better serve my clients. I write for the column "Viewpoint" in the Toronto Star and my next topic will be "Open Sundays." I enjoy advising my clients about mystery of mortgages and take every opportunity to pass on my knowledge. I get a great deal of satisfaction out of my life and look forward to tomorrow.

PAT SINCLAIR

Past experiences are very important to a Real Estate career. Spending time as editor of a national magazine, plus the responsibility of sales certainly paved the way to success with Royal LePage. Also, as co-ordinator for large sporting events I learned the essentials of time management. This enables me to sell real estate in Markham/Unionville with a special interest in country properties, giving a broader knowledge of our market to my clients.

ANNE RATZ

Twenty-five years ago, this Westerner came East. Having grown up in Calgary and worked for an oil company on the Alaska Highway, a move to Peterborough and then Markham was a big one! Living in Markham for the last 20 years has been exciting — growing and changing with the community. A career in Business and Restaurant Managing was rewarding, but Real Estate has proven to be even better. The successful challenge of finding the perfect home for each buyer led to receiving the Master Sales Award from Royal LePage last year. Whether it's community service, Church or Real Estate, it's really people that matter most.

NICOLE DEWSBURY

Having been "Sold" on living in Markham twelve years ago it seemed only natural that a career in real estate would allow me to do the same for others. My enthusiasm came to the forefront six years ago when I made the plunge and I have never looked back. My satisfied clients, cherished friendships and contented family have all made my career both exciting and rewarding. Thank you Markham for your continued support!

ROSE TOMASSINI

After several years of travelling around the world and perfecting four languages, I settled down in Montreal and raised a family. Education became my primary concern and before long I found myself involved not only in my children's schooling, but also managing over 50 preschools throughout the province. With all this administrative experience behind me, I found Real Estate to be the ideal choice. I have enjoyed helping people find their dream home, and seeing them experience the way I did seven years ago, the community spirit that is so prevalent to Markham. Being part of the Royal LePage family with its professionalism, high calibre of staff and continued pursuit of excellence has helped me surpass my goals.

ANNE CAIRNS

Working in Real Estate, plus being wife and mother to 5 boys produces a very busy schedule. That is what I enjoy! My Real Estate Career began 8 years ago in Montreal. My experience includes Residential Real Estate and relocation of company employees to other cities. Achieving the Master Sales Award was a goal I set for myself. Being multi-lingual is certainly a benefit in my business. My aim is to continue offering the best service possible.

SUSAN MOON

I located in Markham 18 years ago and after getting both children to school age, became a full-time Real Estate Saleswoman. After 13 1/2 years in the business, enthusiasm and dedication to full service has kept me a top producer, attaining the President's Gold Award in 1986. I look forward to helping my friends and new arrivals make that happy move to Markham in 1987.

BARBARA HOLLIGAN

"Success" can be attributed to hard work, dedication and above all "service to my clients". This combined with professionalism and understanding has led to referrals and repeat business. Attaining the President's Gold Award has added to the enjoyment of Real Estate. I live in the Markham/Unionville area and welcome enquiries at any time.

DONNA CATS

My Real Estate career began in 1977 selling new homes, condominiums and town homes and now with Royal LePage Real Estate Service Limited. Being in Real Estate is like running your own business, whereby you control your time and receive compensation based on effort. Achieving the Master Sales Award was particularly gratifying. I hope to continue the level of success through 1987.
