Travel consultant is guest speaker

All interested women are invited to attend the next meeting of a local women's club which will feature travel consultant Bernice Pezin.

The Markham Unionville University Women's Club (UWC) is in its third successful year.

Community events which have been organized by the group's education committee include a presentation by Daniel Richler, a television reporter and host of CITY TV. Mr. Richler spoke to 120 young people about the Language of Video with an emphasis on role playing, sexism and violence in videos.

Last month educator Ron Wakelin visited Markham Theatre to discuss Feelings and Relationships with students from Unionville and Markham District High Schools.

Besides the education committee which serves the young people of Markham and Unionville the UWC is involved in book clubs, gourmet clubs, women's issues groups, education, legislation and most recently, the investment club formed by 20 members.

Total membership in the club stands at 80 and is growing steadily. The group of 35 began in 1984 under the leadership of Gerrie Storr, who was president of the club until May, 1986.

The UWC meets the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at St. Patrick's School on Hwy 7 in Markham.

There is always a guest speaker, business meeting and refreshments are served.

Past meetings have hosted author Betty Jane Wylie and Sheila Ziedenberg.

Ms. Wylie discussed women's issues, a subject on which she is well-versed after having written about them in several of her books. Ms. Ziedenberg talked about her role as artistic director of Pegasus Repertory Theatre.
