

Weekender

Children's Page

Bunny huddle

Senior kindergarten students (from left) Erika Swarbrick, Lianne McKay, Jennifer Wallace and Melissa Medwyk give tender loving care to the class rabbit. The five year olds are pupils at St. Joseph Catholic School.

— Brent Lowery

St. Joseph Catholic School

Christmas season story collection

Once upon a time I had a dream about Christmas.

I was sleeping deeply when I was on my way to Santa Claus's castle. I entered into the castle and saw Santa's munchkins.

They made me lots of toys. They gave me goodies and sweets. I had a lot of candy canes and it was a great trip.

After my dream was over I had toys around my bed which I played with. Then my mother called me to eat.

I answered, "Coming mom!" I went downstairs holding the toys getting ready to show them to my mom.

She said they were nice and said, Merry Christmas.

Nancy Assadi
Grade 6

came out and melted the snowman.

The children cried because he was gone but they knew he would come back and he did.

Katie Sheehan
Grade 2

Once there were children. they made a snowman and put a black hat on him.

They put some mittens on and a scarf and named him Frosty the Snowman.

Robbie Gallacher
Grade 2

Once upon a time there were two children making a snowman. They said, "Shouldn't we put mittens on him? Shoud we put boots on him too and a hat?"

One child said, "Here's a hat." And then the wind started blowing hard. The hat blew off the snowman. The children ran after the hat.

Before they could get the hat the snowman had melted.

Sean Gallacher
Grade 2

One day some children were playing snow fight.

Then one girl said, "Let's build a snowman." They rolled snow balls and made them into a snowman.

The wind flew by with a top hat. It was like magic. The snowman came alive. Then one day the sun

Animal crackers

Two days ago, I had a bag of animal crackers.

When I opened my bag, they came alive.

They came out of the bag one by one. The lion started to growl. The monkey hopped out of the bag and climbed up my arm, then jumped down.

My mom came in. She said, "What's all the noise?" Just then the jumping, growling, chasing, hopping and climbing stopped.

I said, "I was being some animals, that's all."

I looked at all the crackers.

Jennifer D.
Grade 3

A variety of verse

In December
For a while
Snow will fall
And make a pile
Building once
Building twice
Building forts with the ice.

Philip Buckler
Paul Otvos
Amanda Kennedy
Grade 4

Snowflakes
frosty, lacy
fly like confetti,
Makes me feel cold.
Crystals

Lisa Weeks
Grade 3

Gives me the chills,
It is very, very cold,
The soft, fluffy snow.

Jennifer Arora
Grade 3

Snow
Fluffy, white,
Gently floating down,
Makes me feel happy.
Flakes.

Jenny Brown
Grade 3

ARTWORK CREDIT FOR CLOWN

Please put credit where ever it will fit. cut off part of clown's hat and feet if need be. Thanks, pc.

Antonella Giummara

The tale of a fiery dragon

I was walking in the forest and a dragon popped out.

I saw the dragon and he blew fire at me and I ran.

I ran home. I was safe at last.

Story and artwork by Jacqueline Morra
Grade 1

CARRIERS

JOIN TODAY

Earn
EXTRA MONEY
IN YOUR SPARE TIME

Economist & Sun

294-8244

The Tribune