

"Girl Next Door"

Lori Lei is a part of 'New Generation'

By JIM THOMAS

GORMLEY — There's a group called 'New Generation Singers' that regularly makes beautiful music at Heise Hill Church and elsewhere around the community.

Lori Lei Bennett's a member. She enjoys it, and so do her listeners.

She's our "Girl Next Door." The all-girl octette was organized several years ago. Others include Heather, Bonnie and Velvet Wideman, Brenda Empringham, Lori Pugh, Donna Vanderbent and Sandy Govea. The pianist is Tim Pugh.

While involvement with the singing group is important to Lori Lei, so also is her association with the Young People's at Heise Hill and the church itself. She describes it as "top priority." Recently, she and Keith Thom were delegates to the Mennonite Central Committee Conference in Welland.

For just over five years, Lori Lei was a resident of Pembroke, moving there with her parents, Dave and Bonnie June, in 1980. She has a brother, Trevor, and an older sister, Wanda, now married and living at Ballantrae.

Lori Lei's a student in Grade 13 at Bayview Secondary School, Richmond Hill.

It took awhile to get back into circulation, Lori Lei admits. Association with Heise Hill Church, however, helped bridge the gap. "I picked up on my friendships where I left off," she explains.

School adjustment presented no problem, she says. English is a favorite subject.

Following graduation, she plans to go on to university, majoring in English, Sociology or Psychology.

Lori Lei says she enjoys the multi-cultural atmosphere that prevails at B.S.S. She calls it "really neat." She's a member of The Heise Hill Youth Group.

Eighteen-year-old Lori Lei Bennett, 19th Avenue, R.R. 2, Gormley, is a student in Grade 13 at Bayview Secondary School. Lori Lei is a member of a gospel singing group called 'New Generation.' She's also treasurer of the Young People's at Heise Hill Brethren in Christ Church. Lori Lei is employed part-time in the bakery section of Stouffville's A&P.

where Lori Lei serves as secretary-treasurer, meets once a week. The friends she's come to know there are very important, she says. So also are her parents.

Lori Lei's smile shines across the counter in the bakery section of Stouffville's A&P. She works there part-time, and previous to that at Wideman's Bakery on the Stouffville Road.

She reads alot and plays the piano.

Lori Lei's other, extra-curricular activity is membership in a fitness club at 'New Bodies', Main Street, Markham. She attends there three times a week.

Thirteen-year-old Paul Spencer

Summitview's leader

By JIM THOMAS

STOUFFVILLE — If 13-year-old Paul Spencer can't use the computer at Summitview Public School, he doesn't worry.

He uses his own at home.

The 1986-87 President of Summitview's Students' Council, purchased a Commodore computer five months ago from money earned on a Tribune paper route. The cost was around $800.

Paul says it's an honor to head up this year's Council and he hopes to come up with interesting events for staff and students alike.

Others on the executive include — Dan Lehman, vice-president and Stacey Brooks, secretary. Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Pearson are staff advisors.

Several Spirit Days are planned, Paul says, along with a Talent Show and an Air Band Contest. Meetings are held on alternate Mondays in the Library.

An honor student, Paul says his interests lean more towards academics than sports. Math and Science are favorite subjects.

He plays the flute in the Summitview Band and hopes to continue this activity at Stouffville High.

Paul resides on Manitoba Street, Stouffville. He has an older brother and sister, Kevin and Karen.

Paul says he's enjoying his Grade 8 year at Summitview. However, he's looking forward to graduation and going on to S.D.S.S.

While some events require the stamp of approval from Summitview's principal, Mr. Boadway, the majority of activities can be okayed by the two teacher representatives, Paul says.
