Wants club closed

He decries 'bureaucracy'

Dear Editor:

It is discouraging, for a young person such as myself, to see a legal system more caught up in bureaucratic detail than the pursuit of justice for truly moral reasons.

In this country, it is a shame when the courts and appeal mechanisms involved with the legal system, bring justice and morality to a halt.

For years now, Markham has been trying to rid itself of Studio 134. Through the leadership of Mayor Carole Bell, the town has attempted to initiate the closure of Markham's infamous strip club; but the legal process drags it on.

We know that the residents of Markham do not approve of this establishment, store owners have suffered, parking is hectic, the behaviour of the patrons is unacceptable (to say the least), and the Supreme Court has actually ruled in favor of moving establishments such as Studio 134 to areas considered non-residential; yet it all drags on.

It will be a great day when the courts of this country learn to listen to people who are attempting to end obscenity and misconduct because they morally disagree.

Markhamites will be pleased to see Studio 134 abandoned and boarded up. Let us hope that occurs sooner than later.

Garbage notice is needed

Dear Sir,

I would like to point out, regarding the recent change of refuse collection in Milliken, that very few residents are aware of the change.

As far as I know, no prior notice of the change of the collection from Monday and Thursday to Tuesday and Friday, was sent to the residents. The first I knew about it was when I read the notice in your paper, after the schedule changed.

I hope someone from the Town of Markham will please send everyone a notice regarding this change. There are still residents who haven't caught on yet.

Mailmen get pat on the back

Dear Sir:

Three cheers for the mail carriers.

Last week a letter was returned to the sender for insufficient information. The letter was addressed correctly, but without the apartment unit number.

At first we were a little upset but after sitting down and discussing the problems this would cause to the mail carrier, we realized how many times this situation could crop up.

Instead of blaming the post office and the mail carriers for their inability to cope, we will have to make sure our cards, letters and parcels are correctly addressed.

Just maybe, if we cooperated more fully, the powers that be would be able to keep their expenses in line and not find it necessary to raise the cost of mailing.

Once again one must say "Three cheers for the mail carriers" who are always scratching their heads when delivering to apartment buildings.

Sincerely hoping the Christmas mail isn't too heavy and our sincere thanks for service over the years.

Merry Christmas
