Reader criticizes social club bust

Dear Sir:

I strongly object to the waste of my precious tax dollars by the so called Gordon Smyth morality unit.

Three months to investigate a card game? Are these tin gods out to lunch? What is so immoral about consenting 60-year-olds playing cards or passing around a beer at 9:45 p.m. on a Saturday night?

This is discrimination against these hard-working people (tax-payers). Their nationality has played cards for generations. There is nothing immoral about their ancestry or their way of life in Markham.

Is it not immoral for (Regional Councillor Bud) Bonner and his gang to cover up and stop a man from opening a teen club to make a living just because there is a card game in the same commercial building?

Personally, I find these tin gods not only offensive, but expensive.

Daycare dilemma

Dear Sir:

What sort of society is this always wanting handouts and not being capable of taking responsibility into their own hands for the choices they make in life?

It's not enough that I, a mother of three and at home, should support mothers who receive UIC benefits while on maternity leave.

I now have to support subsidized daycare (as in the case of the daycare centre set up for teachers' children at Markham District High School.

The government is going to cover 80 per cent of the centre's initial costs. Why should we pay and support an above-average salary?

If you want to subsidize children then subsidize them through the child tax credit system.
