

SHARON FRASER
Misses out on Nationals

Milliken girl third

By BRUCE ETHERIDGE

After sweeping the Ontario Collegiate Badminton Championship the last three years, Milliken's Sharon Fraser was expecting another cake-walk this year. But it never happened.

Fraser was unceremoniously dumped from the top spot by a host of newcomers and had to settle for a hard-fought third place finish. "Maybe I was too overconfident," she conceded.

Despite defeating the overall winner, the 22-year-old Centennial College student had to settle for the bronze medal in the round robin tournament. "The competition was much better this year," Fraser said.

In the battle for the bronze medal, Fraser was taken to three games by Sue Bain of Fanshawe College before finally prevailing with scores of 11-6, 11-12 and 11-6.

Fraser went into the tournament with the same uncomplicated strategy that had been successful the three previous years: serve to the back of the court, and try to get the opponent out of position to make the point.

Of the matches Fraser lost, all were close and twice she lost games by only a single point.

"This was the best tournament in the four years I've been competing," Fraser said. "It was all new girls this year and the competition was really good. I'm just upset I didn't do better."

Fraser's sister, Maria, also a Centennial student, came first in the doubles tournament with partner Jenny Bird. The tandem swept their matches with lopsided scores. They have advanced to the Canadian College Playdowns.

Another Milliken resident, Alex Szockyj, attending Centennial's Progress Campus came second in men's singles play.

Weigand rink wins bonspiel in Unionville

The team of Roy Weigand, Marjorie Tarr and Evelyn Magnusson showed them how it's done at the recent Friends of Unionville Bonspiel.

Sixteen teams entered the competition, held at the Unionville Curling Club, but it was Weigand and company that walked away with the top prize.

Second place overall went to Kent Tomasiak's rink of Greg Nelson, Sue Stewart and Donna McKay.

Frank & Linda Corcoran teamed up with guests Don & Mary Kawaja to claim second prize in the first draw. Third was Del Zonia & Geoff Hicke and Jen Zavitz.

Second place in the second draw went to Jill & Tom King and guests Junia Corcoran & Bill King. Claiming third were Ron Spafford, Clare, Bill and Sharon Moore.
