

Royalty at S.D.S.S.

Stouffville Dist. Secondary School has a new king and queen. They were selected during the annual Spring Prom, Friday night at the Holiday Inn near Eglinton Avenue. The queen of 1987 is Josie Degli Angeli, 19, (above), of Stouffer Street, Stouffville. Her escort is Wayne Cheng, also 19, of Thicketwood Boulevard.

The king of Stouffville High is nineteen-year-old Ben Wallis, O'Brien Avenue, Stouffville. His partner is Janice Peterson, Raymerville Drive, Markham. Both Josie and Ben are students in Grade 13. —Jim Thomas

Prom a gala event

By JEFF CARNEY
S.D.S.S. Reporter

At Stouffville Dist. Secondary School, news occurs like April showers, all at once or not at all!

Usually, on Sunday afternoons, I can be found isolated at my desk, pen in hand, blank page in front, struggling to come up with something news-worthy to put on paper.

But not last Sunday! This past week it was a regular hurricane of events with each, in its own right, worthy of a complete story.

For example, the I.S.C.F.'s "Great Race" is an event that requires strength, stamina and speed as contestants' career over speed bumps and past cheering crowds.

I could write about the band-choir exchange to Hebron, Ohio and the incredible job our band president, Shelley Whittaker has done in organizing it. Or perhaps I could mention Mr. Connell's square dance phenomenon—a record 150 squares, (that's 120 students, folks), in one session, proving once and for all, square dancing's 'all the rage' at Stouffville High.

Charles Hayter's "A Touch of Robert Service" presentation definitely deserves a mention as does the upcoming Fitness Challenge. Out of desparation, I could mention Maple Leaf Mania, (prior to Sunday evening's loss), or tell you how the Boston Celtics are doing in the N.B.A. playoffs.

But I won't. Instead, I'll regale you with a tale of the week's Big Event—The May Prom.

This past Friday, (May 1), witnessed the social event of the year. Friday also witnessed a larger-than-life "skip sheet", (that little attendance record that faithfully records every absentee.)

"But where is everybody?" asked Chemistry teacher extraordinaire, Mr. Kamel.

"They're at home," replied Chemistry hopeful, Patricia Hammond. "You see, in order to be at your best for the Formal, you have to sleep in until ten o'clock. Then you take a four-hour 'mood' shower; then make a trip to the hairdressers, after which you lay out all your clothes, just to admire them. Then you get dressed, apply make-up and $100 dollar perfume and wait impatiently for your date. It's a very complicated progress," she concluded with a grin.

Indeed, the Spring Formal CAN be a complicated process. Just ask Social Convenor Annika Hannan. For the past two weeks, Annika has been running around S.D.S.S., planning and preparing this season's gala. Her efforts deserve special mention and a big school-wide THANK YOU!

Yes, with all the events happening at S.D.S.S.; there are many things to write about. However, I can't honestly describe the Prom itself. You see, (sniff, sniff), I wasn't there. But just ask all Prom participants at Stouffville High and they'll tell you—the 1987 Spring Formal was a huge success.
