

Uxbridge's Dominion Automotive Industries received the Industrial Accident Prevention Association's (IAPA) standard Two Star award April 29. Taking part in the safety award presentation were (from left) Doug Watts, Dominion's production superintendent; IAPA district manager Earle Briard; plant manager Tony Teeds; and safety co-ordinator Alby Hurley.

Pickering Museum Village volunteer Janet Chessell demonstrates the finer points of carding wool for Oshawa's Rachel Brown, 8, and her 3-year-old sister Heather. The Greenwood facility was one of several area museums represented at a special exhibit held in conjunction with Saturday's grand opening of Cullen Gardens' 1987 Tulip Festival.
