No future? Building could be levelled

By DENISE McDONALD
An old Ballantrae Park building could face the wrecker's ball if an alternate isn't found to house hydro services.
The building has been used in the past as an ice-skating change room and houses current well and hydro services.
A report submitted at Tuesday's recreation and cultural services committee meeting, said the building is in need of monthly repairs and is a prime target for vandals.
However, relocation of hydro, building removal and ground restoration will cost an estimated $4,000.
"Relocation of the hydro service will be the most expensive part of the demolition," facilities manager Joe Lewis explained. "Although removal of the old building is urgent, arrangements have to be made to cover the hydro service."
Although a proposal to relocate in a tennis court building was forwarded, committee recommended a less expensive solution be found.
