

Christian School Spring Fair nets receipts close to $11,000

Stouffville Christian School held its annual Spring Fair, Saturday in the Town Park. Here Eva Burland displays a beautiful 'Little Dutch Girl' quilt made by Operations Missions at the Stouffville Missionary Church.

A slow-pitch tournament was the main sporting activity throughout the day. Waiting hopefully to get in a few swings at the plate is two-year-old Jordan Moran of Claremont. Some day he will.

Two trampolines had the kids vaulting up and down like jumping beans. Eleven-year-old Marieke de Boer of Mount Albert displays her skill. Marieke is a Grade 6 student at the Stouffville Christian School.

Mrs. Heather Moran and partner Joanne De Merchant operate a shop in Claremont called 'New Creations'. On Saturday, they displayed some of their hand-made items in a booth at the Fair. Mrs. Moran models this 'creation'. —Jim Thomas

A part of history

By MARJORIE WOODLAND
FOURTH LINE — The community was shocked by the news of the sudden passing of Mr. Walter Todd at his Uxbridge home, Thursday morning. Mr. Todd had recently been released from Uxbridge and Oshawa Hospitals and appeared in much improved health. Walter and Florence were life-long Goodwood residents. They moved to Uxbridge two years ago. Walter is the last member in the family of Mr. and Mrs. George Todd. He was predeceased by brothers Jack and Gordon, and sisters Blanche and Lorraine. Besides his wife, he is survived by son Robert, daughter-in-law Gloria and two granddaughters, Connie and Karen, all of Uxbridge. The respect held for Walter and his family was demonstrated by the numbers attending the service, Sunday, at Low's Funeral Home, Uxbridge. Interment was made at Uxbridge Cemetery.

The congregation of Goodwood United Church will celebrate their 80th anniversary this Sunday, June 7. Time of the service is 11 a.m. During the worship, a bell, saved from the Goodwood Methodist Church following a fire in 1906, will be dedicated.

Bob Pugh suffered a badly crushed elbow plus cuts and bruises, when a ladder collapsed under him at the Stouffville Sales Barn. He hopes to be released from York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill, this week.

Tammy Pugh has joined the staff of Goodwood Store.

Joe Mayr of Goodwood has sold his Bread Basket bakery business on Main Street, Stouffville. New owner, Gerard Stempilet, has moved to Stouffville from Toronto. He will change the name of the store to 'Petite Gateau'.

A shower honoring Gail Jackson and Brian Rushlow was changed from May 31 to June 2 in the Goodwood Community Hall.

Congratulations to Bruce and Pat Kearney on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. Daughter Karen and son-in-law John hosted a party in their honor, May 17, at their home in Uxbridge. Friends and relatives attended the celebration from as far distant as Edmonton, Alberta.

Mrs. John Rawlick hosted a recent shower for Nancy Luttrell. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Nancy and Leonard (May) will be married June 20 in Goodwood United Church.

Neighborly Notes

By JIM THOMAS

Nice gesture

Lloyd Hamm, manager of Stouffville Feeds Limited, was recently presented with a framed full-color photo of himself by members of staff on the occasion of his birthday, May 4. The picture was a re-print of the one published in The Tribune's Farm Supplement of April 22. The gift is much appreciated and holds a prominent place in the family's home on Lloyd Avenue.

Costly job

Recently I commented on the poor state of repair of the clock tower's base in Stouffville's Civic Square. It suggested it could be given a quick fix in less than an hour. Not so, says Mayor Fran Sainsbury. It's anticipated the work will cost close to $30,000 when all is said and done. We want to fix it once and fix it right, Mayor Sainsbury said. The work won't be started until after the Strawberry Festival/Canada Day weekend. The expense is included in the Town's 1987 budget.

Baby wanted

A Pickering couple want a baby so badly they've hired a mother to bear it. The Ajax News-Advertiser reports Tony and Mavis Howlett have acquired the services of a woman living in the United States to be a surrogate mother of their child at a cost of about $10,000 plus legal and medical expenses (totaling close to $18,000). If the procedure proves successful, Mr. and Mrs. Howlett will be only the third couple in the world and the first in Canada to have their baby created in a lab and implanted and delivered by another woman, the paper says.

Now $71,000

Eldred King, chairman of York Region, makes no apologies for his annual salary of $71,000, even though it's at the high end of the political pay scale as compared to officials in similar positions. It was 17 years ago that the chairman's office was established. Explains Mr. King, the salary figure has advanced to its present point since that time. Although it causes weekly newspaper editors to wince a little, perhaps he works three times as hard.

Rests his pen

Adam Johnstone, Stouffville's illustrious letter-writer, is giving his pen a rest for a few weeks. He's taking off for the British Isles to visit friends and relatives and see the country side. Says Mr. Johnstone: "I hope The Tribune's circulation won't suffer in my absence. My hope is that Adam continues his correspondence on his return. Letters to the Editor are the best read items in any newspaper."

Low mentality

The loonies were out Friday night. Only hours after many of the Main Street, Stouffville, planters were filled with flowers, low mentality looters pulled many of them out and scattered them about the ground.

Who needs it?

Coming Soon, a sign reads on the Earl of Whitchurch pub, Main Street, West, Stouffville. Coming too soon is my reaction to this type of establishment. Mike Larkin is an extremely enterprising gentleman. However, I was hoping for a project more enterprising than this.

Follows flash

For a while, Thursday, Stouffville firefighters thought their Chief, Bill Brown, was psychic. As the alarm was sounding, Chief Brown was radiating in to the station, telling volunteers he had reached the scene. It seems Chief Brown was on patrol Thursday afternoon and saw the flash of lightning that impaled a Scarborough golfer on the Spring Lakes course north of Ringwood. Minutes later, he spotted an ambulance en route to the scene and quickly concluded something was wrong. Chief Brown says he doesn't go looking for trouble but he's pleased to be close by when it happens.

The price!

Real estate in Whitchurch-Stouffville continues to be a good investment. A 50-acre property on Ninth Line North recently sold for a reported $8-million dollars. It's a safe bet the purchaser doesn't plan to farm it.

Death silences fiddle

Friends at Stouffville's Silver Jubilee Club will long remember Eugene Paisley's love of the violin.

Many enjoyable evenings were spent with Gene's fiddle and his bow. He loved the music as much as did his audience.

Eugene Paisley's violin is quiet now, silenced by death. He passed away May 25 in York County Hospital, Newmarket.

Mr. Paisley was stricken with Parkinson's disease about a year ago. He later developed cancer.

Born at Churchill, Eugene moved to Ballantrae at an early age, and continued to live there until taking up residence at Parkview Village, Stouffville, in 1966.

He was identified with Ballantrae United Church.

Prior to retirement, Mr. Paisley was employed on the staff of Wilson-Noble Motors Limited, Richmond Hill.

Gene Paisley's skill on the violin was also known in communities other than Stouffville. He was a member of the Nobleton Old Time Fiddlers Club and often played in the Community Hall at Maple.

Besides his wife, the former Eva Hamilton, Mr. Paisley is survived by a stepson, Jim Hamilton of Minden; two step-daughters, Aura Quibell of Bramalea and Eunice McCluskey of Weston; a nephew, Kenneth McKuen of Newmarket; and a sister, Irene McKuen, also of Newmarket. There are nine grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

Rev. Chris Sorley conducted the service, Thursday, from the O'Neill Funeral Home, Stouffville, with Interment Churchhill Cemetery. Pall-bearers were — Nce, William and David, Whitmore; Victor and Robert McCluskey; and Kelvin Veno.
