

At Markham's Milne Park

You're invited to July 1 bash

By NANCY HOSKIN
The Second Annual Economist & Sun Canada Day Picnic will take place on Wednesday, July 1, at Milne Park, beginning at 4:30 p.m.
Highlights of the event are children's activities, live entertainment and a giant fireworks display every family member will enjoy.

Economist & Sun employees have volunteered their time and talent to make this event most memorable. From 4:30-6:30 p.m. a number of clowns will be passing out balloons to children of all ages.
Shirley Lee will head the team of expert face painters — one of the most popular attractions at last year's picnic for little ones.

Children's games will be organized from 4:30-6:30 p.m., with the winners receiving ribbons for their victories.
"We had an estimated crowd last year of 7,000 and even with the high numbers our celebration went very well," explained Jenni Hutt, promotions manager for the Economist & Sun. "Milne Park can certainly accommodate more people and we'd be glad to have them."

lovely setting for an afternoon and evening of fun for the entire family.

A large stage will once again be set up on the grounds with continual entertainment from 5 until 9 p.m. Barry Carr, of Carlaw Music, in Markham, is once again supplying the sound equipment needed.

Each act will perform for approximately half an hour. A giant fireworks display will follow, beginning at dusk, which this year is sponsored by the Markham Kiwanis Club and Town of Markham.

This year's Master of Ceremonies will be Markham resident and stand-up comedian, Tommy Williamson. Live entertainment this year includes recording artists, Emport, Mark Fortin and Rick Washbrook. Also performing is Don Lloyd and Country Gold, Zumbarrak, comedian Sam Coats, June Williamson and the Markham District High School band, Jazz Manoeuvres.

"Our picnic is a real family affair," explained Mrs. Hutt. "There's something for everyone. Families shouldn't hesitate to bring their picnic baskets and should remember to bring lawn chairs and blankets."

"Though everyone will keep their fingers crossed for fair weather, we'll have to cancel the picnic if rain is a problem," said Mrs. Hutt.

Milne Park was chosen last year for the first Economist & Sun Canada Day Picnic, according to Mrs. Hutt, because of its size.

This Markham conservation area has wide open spaces, which furthers the safety factor when shooting off fireworks, and is a
