

Get better value on your home insurance!

It's simple. Talk to one of our Company representatives. We offer complete protection, a low deductible, and low premiums.

Constitution approaches home insurance a little differently. Our representative will take the time to find out exactly what you need. Together we'll decide just how much coverage is best for your home and its contents.

You can Save with our Special Discounts

In addition to our low premiums, you may qualify for one or more of our special discounts:

- "Fifty Plus" discount if you are 50 years of age or over.
- Special discount for newer homes.
- Preferred rates for homes built after 1951.

Low Deductible

Our low $100 deductible can save you money when you need it most — at the time you have a loss. Even better, it's not payable on all claims.

Extras at No Additional Cost

Constitution offers many extras at no additional cost, for example:

- Additional living expense allowance.
- Automatic inflation indexing.
- Protection against credit card fraud.

Convenient payment plans are available to help your budget.

A word to the wise

Sensible insurance starts with knowing what you own and how much it is worth. That's the only way you can be adequately covered, and it simplifies the claim process, too.

Constitution recommends listing the contents of your home, and keep the list in a safety deposit box. Then you'll have a reference in case of fire or theft.

We also recommend marking valuable items, as an aid to recovery if they are lost or stolen. The police like this idea, too. If you're interested, we can tell you about it, and even lend you the special tool to identify your personal valuables.

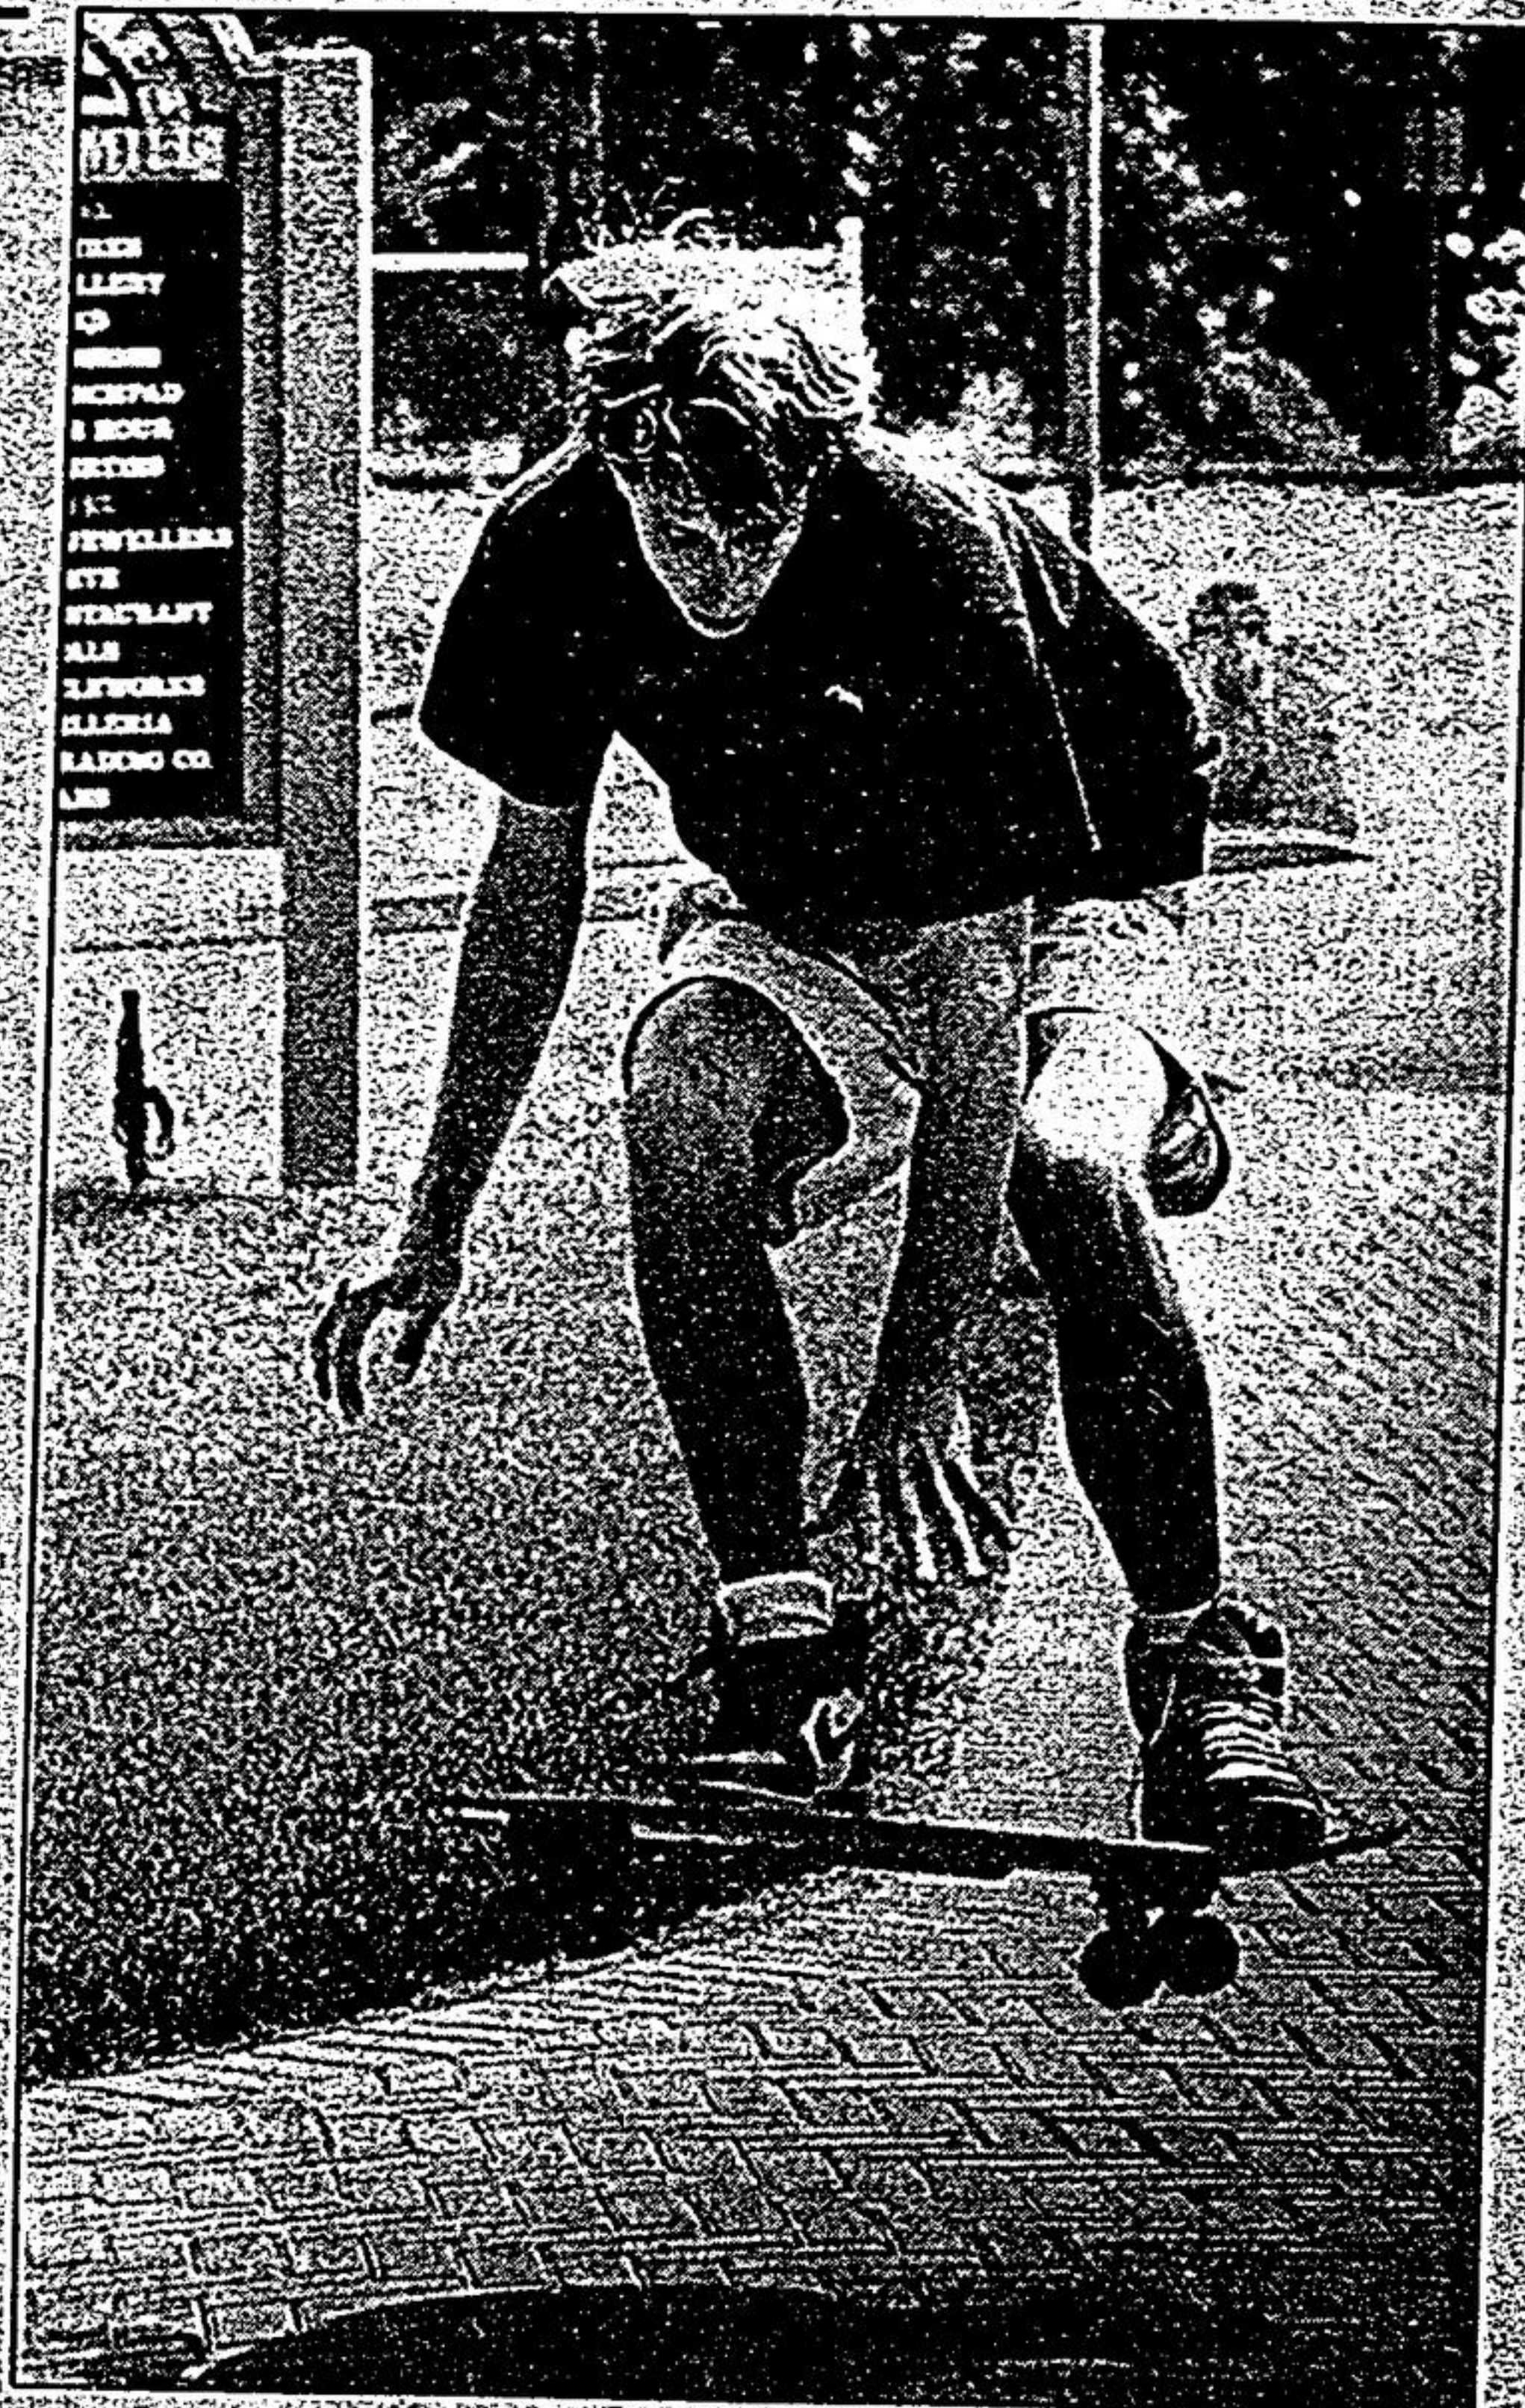

If your insurance is up for renewal, or if you're moving, make sure you talk to a Constitution representative. You'll be dealing direct with the company, which means lower costs, quick answers, and fast response if you need to make a claim.

For Steve Sherlock skateboarding is more than a hobby, it's also his business. He sells skateboards and accessories at his Unionville store. — Sjoerd Witteveen

Skateboarding is a way of life

By BRENDA MARSHALL
Skateboarding isn't just a sport, it's a way of life imported from California.

Take Unionville's Steve Sherlock, for example.

Steve, 19, and his parents own and operate the Plaid Launchpad, a skateboard shop in the Unionville-Planning Mill.

An avid skateboarder, or skater as they are called, Steve runs the store, buys the stock which includes boards, equipment, stickers, and clothing, gets to drive the company car, a 1987 Volkswagon 16-valve Scirocco and take business trips to California. He also works about 65 hours a week, not the life of your average teenager.

Mr. Sherlock is one of the older skaters in the Markham area. The average skater ranges in age from 8 to 18 but the real pros, like internationally-known Tony Hawk, are in their twenties. Skating is definitely a male-dominated sport but girls do it as well, and are known as "skate Bettys" (think Flintstones).

A lot of hype is connected with makes of skateboards. Most pros skate for a particular manufacturer. (Continued Pg. 19)
