

Craftnotes

Karen Grimes and Linda Conde

There's a wealth of crafty notions

Those hazy days of summer are just about over.

With the start of school only days away, the Markham Guild of Village Crafts is gearing up for its Fall Course and Membership Registration.

It will be held Tuesday, Sept. 15 from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Guild building at 98 Church St. in Markham. Come and see what we have to offer.

Our new fall line-up features some great new opportunities for children.

For pre-schoolers, 3 to 5 years, we have weekly arts and crafts programs. For older children, there are many after-school courses to choose from.

We have drawing and painting for both beginners and advanced. Model airplanes will be winging their way through the Guild building.

Pottery, always popular, is back again. Kids will love to learn origami, the Japanese art of paper folding. There's a new course in puppetry, where the kids will make the puppets and finish with a show.

Later in the fall there will be a Christmas craft class, but adults needn't despair, there are lots of things for you, too.

We have classes in various forms of needlework: Blackwork, Bunka, Cross-stitch, Crochet, Smocking and Tatting.

We have a number of quilting courses to choose from. There's a beginners sewing session, and for those of you who want to learn a new slant on an old craft, a specialty course in knitting techniques.

Calligraphy, both beginners and advanced, is available, as well as a new class in paper tole. The rug hooking course will deal with the design and construction of a Chinese oriental rug.

Tole painting, one of the original "folk arts" is also offered. Karen Grimes will be teaching the cut and pierce lampshade course.

Courses range from four to 10 weeks in length and are open to both guild members and the general public.

If you want to learn something but have less time to spend, why not try one of our one-day workshops?

There are three porcelain doll workshops: the Victorian pop-up doll, the basket clown, and the mechanical Father Christmas doll.

There is an origami class for adults. You can learn the art of Celtic Applique, or try your hand at weaving a shawl.

Specialty workshops for Christmas include Linda Conde's Christmas reindeer, smocking a Christmas ball ornament, a folded star decoration, and ornaments in counted cross-stitch.

For the top of the tree, try making a woven Christmas tree angel.

September 15 marks the re-opening of the Guild Shoppe. For unique gift-giving ideas, come visit us.

Guild members will also be present at the Markham Museum Heritage Day on Sept. 12. Members will be selling their crafts as well as giving demonstrations at the museum's harvest celebration.

So mark your calendar on Tuesday, Sept. 15, for the Fall Course and Membership Registration, 1 to 9 p.m. at the Markham Guild of Village Crafts.

Made in the spade

Officials at Centennial Baptist Church had every reason to smile at the groundbreaking ceremony last week after nearly a year of negotiating for a major expansion of the church. From the left are

Author at meeting

Socialization and life skills are on the agenda for author Doreen Kronick at an upcoming engagement in Richmond Hill.

The presentation will be Tuesday, Sept. 22 at Crosby Heights Public School, 305 Crosby St., Richmond Hill.

The York Region Association for Children and Adults with Learning Disabilities is sponsoring the event.
