How are emotions to function in our human existence as part of God's good creation? Rationalism has deprecated the place of emotions while Romanticism has exaggerated the place of emotions. Adam and Eve immediately felt shame and fear after they had sinned. Emotion is one of the ways in which we show and understand the meaning and significance of the world in relation to us, shame and fear immediately enable Adam and Eve to comprehend something of the significance of sin.

"That very day they came under the guilt and curse of sin — the curse of sin, causing fear. Such is their instant knowledge of evil."

(Robert S. Candish 1806-1873)
