

Trade Show draws big crowd valuable prizes won by many

The Whitchurch-Stouffville Chamber of Commerce sponsored another successful Trade Show Thursday through Saturday with large crowds each night. Nine-year-old Jennifer Cowley was literally 'swept off her feet' by 'Goldie', the Century 21 bear.

Six-year-old Lisa Forsyth of Market Street, Stouffville, was the recipient of a Town Pin from Ward 1 councillor Margot Marshall. Balloons were also popular with the kids.

Fashion shows attracted a lot of attention from the men as well as the ladies. The model here is Christine (Hodgson) Berry, Albert Street South, Stouffville.

Fashions were featured by The Wedding Room and Josephine's, both of Main Street, Stouffville. The model (above) is Tamara (Ewen) Kawalo of R.R. 3, Claremont.

Jack Chambers, IGA, putting green proved a popular test of skill with a soft drink for every hole-in-one. Here, the 'old master' gives nine-year-old Shelley Painter a free lesson on how he plays the game.

Twelve-year-old Cameron Day of Burlington visited the Trade Show while visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Kinmerley of Alderwood Crescent, Stouffville. Cameron won Teddy Ruxpin, a prize offered by Farquharson Realty Limited. The presentation was made by sales agents Sharron Brazier, (right) and Jeannine Sheridan.
