

Markham Concert Band member Don Hall works on the clarinet while practising for the group's upcoming '87-'88 performances. The band will launch its new season with a Christmas concert at the Markham Theatre Dec. 13.

Players tune up for 1988

The Markham Concert Band will once again be presenting a three-concert series for the 1987-88 season.

A selection of music is planned ranging from showtunes and marches to jazz and light classics.

The Christmas Concert takes place Sunday, Dec. 13 at 3 p.m. and will feature old Christmas favorites, as well as the traditional sing-along.

The Markham Concert Band will present their spring concert on Sunday, March 6, 1988 at 3 p.m. with the theme "Everything's Coming Up Roses."

Mothers are sure to enjoy a concert in their honor, to take place Mother's Day, Sunday, May 8 at 3 p.m. with an entertaining selection of musical favorites.

All concerts will be performed at the Markham Theatre for the Performing Arts. Subscription prices for all three performances are $20 for adults and $10 for children (under 12) and seniors.

Single tickets go on sale at the end of November and will be $8.50 for adults and $4.50 for children (under 12) and seniors.

For further information and tickets contact the Markham Concert Band office at 471-4133.

Baritonist Al Harvey puts his best into things while playing with the Markham Concert Band. The group has three shows scheduled for local music-lovers between Christmas and Mother's Day in 1988. They'll play at the Markham Theatre.
