

Correction

Alex Newman's article "Garbage from source to scrap pile" Weekender November 28 incorrectly stated that tenders for collection occur every five or six years. Actually the last contract with Markham Disposal was a renegotiated one. The Weekender regrets the error.

Great grapple grommets

Larry Mann, infamous for his grapple grommet commercials for Bell Canada's Telemarketing Group, visited American Express Markham headquarters Thursday to present an outstanding achievement award to Rita Forte. Here, he's visiting with Diane Leblanc in the telemarketing department. — Sjoerd Witteveen
