

Claremont Christmas visitors

Yvonne and Steven Woods of Bowmanville, during the Christmas holidays. The four later paid rents, Beth and Lloyd Woods of a visit to Yvonne's parents, the Visiting with friends and relatives is an age-old Christmas tradition.

Bomba's of Claremont, to wish them a very Merry Christmas.

Audrey and Gerry Dawson, were honored with a real family Christmas when son Gerry, daughter-in-law Inger and granddaughters Anne-Marie and Karin visited from Ottawa. Sons Randy and Rick Dawson also helped brighten festivities, along with Randy's fiancée Ingrid Schmelter of Toronto and Rick's friends Roy Flynn and Chris Duncniff.

The Evelyn family of Claremont celebrated an early Christmas this year, when family members from Edmonton, Barbadoes, Kentucky and Miami came to the area to celebrate a wedding. However, all was not over in the way of Yuletide festivities. On Christmas Day, Mary and Sean Evelyn and brother-in-law Sandro, as well as John and Pat Evelyn, aunt Madilyn and Uncle Ed and dogs Charley and Sheba gathered to share in the Christmas turkey.

Verla and Bill Leach received a special present this past holiday season when their daughter Valerie and friend Roy Mann visited from their home town near Farnum, England. As well, the Leach's entertained a special friend, Mrs. Margaret Coton from Linwood, on Bayview, Toronto.

Louise and Donald Hope entertained members of their immediate family during the week of Christmas, including son David, daughter-in-law Dianne and grandchildren Kofi and Melika from New Liskeard, as well as daughters Katherine from Montreal and Janet Hope-Roney and Paul from Hamilton.

Isabel and Charles Turner's youngest son Wayne and wife,

Kim held their first family Christmas dinner in Sunderland, inviting Mom and Dad, brother Barry, sister Vickie and another brother Dale, Terry and children Tasha and Lester over to partake of the sumptuous meal.

Laurice and Douglas Parratt enjoyed Christmas at home with their family, including sons Michael and Donald, daughter Christine Porter from Kitchener and grandchildren Jason and Ryan. However, oldest son Robert, who has been serving in the air force for the past 20 years in Nova Scotia, was unable to join them.

Twenty-three people were the guests of George and Cathy Martin over the Christmas holidays, including brother Ron Martin and children Ian and Shannon, Dave and Colleen Nicholas, along with Andy, Kyle and Jeremy, Betty and Jeff McGuire and April, Jack and Ann Burke, all from Toronto, Eric and Helga Parish from Udora, sister Karen Buckle and husband Ken, along with Carrie and Alan from Pickering, and George's parents, George and Alviria Martin from Lindsay.

Olive Lynch of Claremont spent a happy Christmas meal with her mother, Cushnie, who resides at Guildwood Villa. She was later joined on December 29 by her daughter Janet and her husband Mark Porter's friends Katrina Goldfarb and David Nash from Toronto.

Susan and Fred Bendell played host to several visitors on Christmas Day, including sister and brother-in-law Pamela and John Nicolls of Whitby, Carla and Ken Venables of Newmarket, and parents June and Harry Bendell from Toronto.

Jose Roncken enjoyed a memorable Christmas surrounded by friends and family, including Mike and Lyn Roncken, and children Shawn and Ryan of Goderich, daughter Debbie from Uxbridge and friend Scott, daughter Brenda and husband, John, and daughter, Alisha, from Oshawa, as well as Joyce and David Bell from Goodwood.

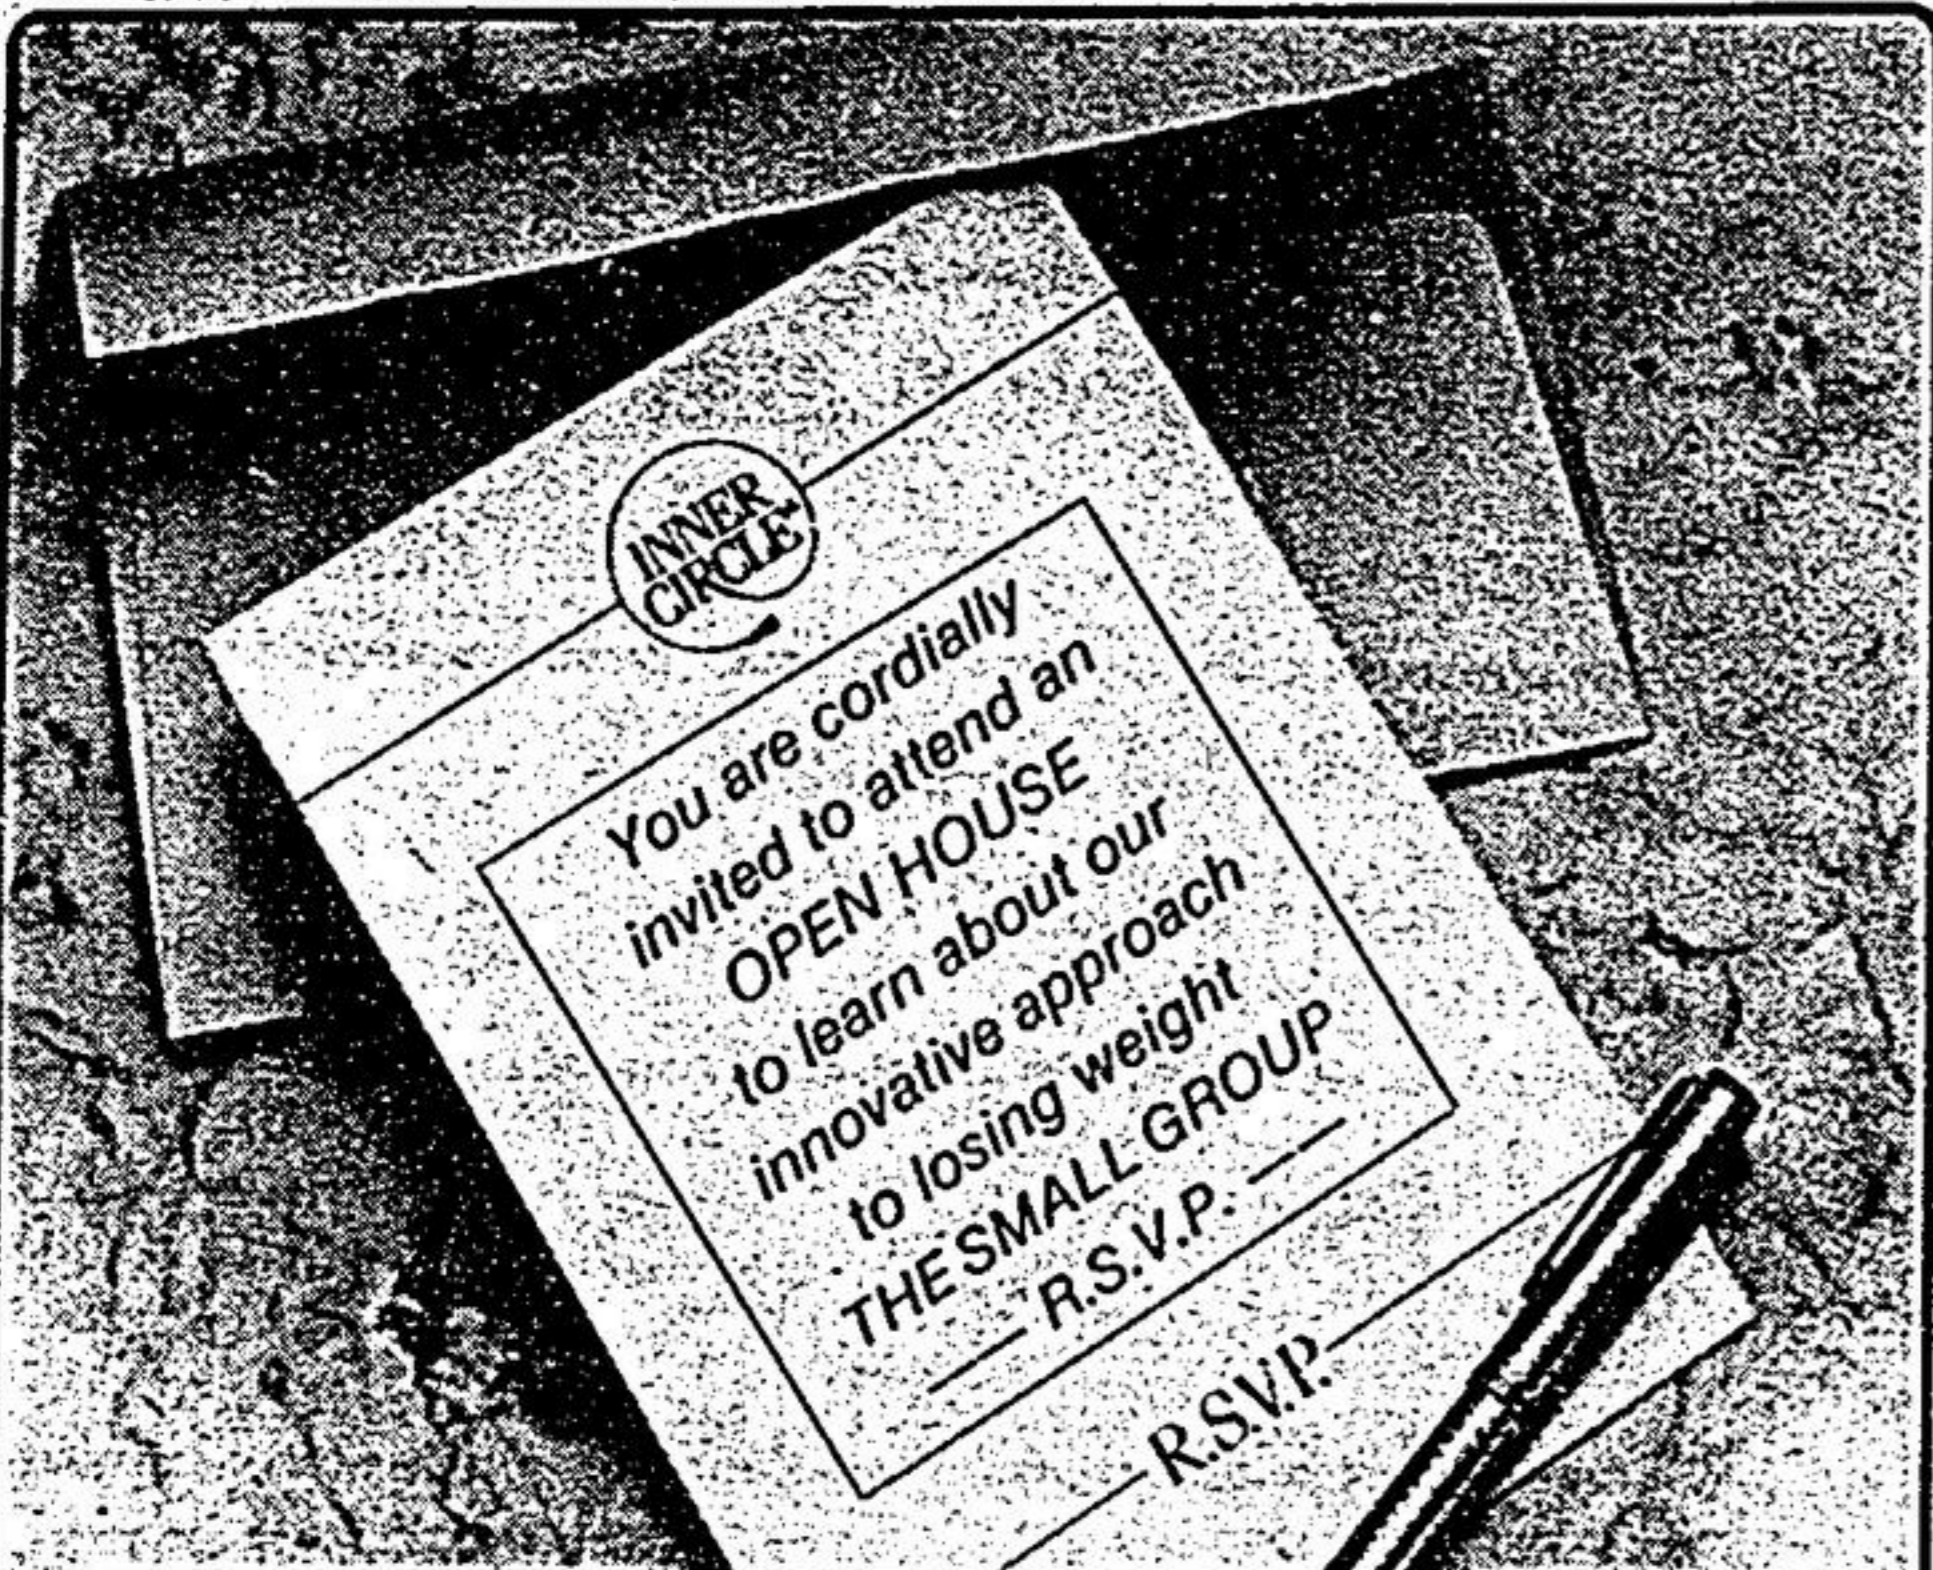

Ruth and Walter Murray, along with daughter Julieann, visited with family members Cec and Jean McMordie at their home on Sunset Blvd. in Stouffville, where they were joined by their son Rob and his wife Carolyn.

Susan and Ted Torrance entertained several family members over the Christmas holidays, including parents Ethel and Harold, and sister Debbie, from Hamilton; sister Ruth LeBlond from Musselman's Lake, as well as Bud and Lois Torrance from Agincourt and friend Elisabeth Martins from across the road.

Laura and Frank Hendy entertained cousin Ivan Norton, also of Goodwood during the Christmas holidays. As well, sister Jane Hendy and son, Pat Forfar dropped by for a visit over New Years.

Joanna and Bill Fuchs enjoyed Christmas with friends and family, including Karel and Elizabeth Coltof from Pickering, Ronald and Kathy Coltof, and their children Edward and Mark, from Oshawa, son Eric and wife Kristie from Bristol Ponds and daughter Hester and son Tim.

Bonnie and Ted Lawes enjoyed Christmas with relatives from overseas, Harry and Gladys Nicholas from Clingford, England and cousin Sonya from New Zealand.
