Hat day possible at school

From C-5

"That way we receive suggestions rather than arranging events we only think they want to have happen."

To date, the council has been responsible for organizing Halloween and Christmas dances and a teddy bear day.

"Everybody brought their favorite bear and we judged them according to the best, the biggest, the tiniest and the one that most resembled its owner," said Tony.

"You'd be surprised how many looked much like their keepers," Mrs. Caliendo added. "The resemblances were amazing."

Future proposals still to be discussed include a gum-chewing day; a bubble gum blowing contest and a hat day.

"We're also trying to get the winter carnival going again over the Feb. 6 weekend," said Mrs. Caliendo.

Although Tony could be seen as holding a position of honor at the school, he says his fellow students treat him no differently.

"Some of the little kids know me better now than they did," he said. "They relate to me better. They come up to me and say hello when before they didn't even know who I was."

Although he's still not certain about future personal goals, Tony says he may consider standing for a position on council when he enters high school.

"I'm going to give it a lot of thought. It'll be an even greater responsibility."

"All members on council are very enthusiastic and responsible people," Mrs. Caliendo said.

Resist reading aloud, or talking about school? YES NO

Withdraw, or show off to extremes? YES NO

STOUFFVILLE — The Town presently requires all taxi operators to carry a minimum of $500,000 liability insurance.

Owners now exceed this; Council was told Jan. 26. Their coverage is $1 million.

However, the Town's unsure if even this is sufficient since more operators are using vehicles carrying more people.

Councillor Wilf Morley suggested a figure of $2 million. At the same time, he admitted this kind of coverage might be difficult to obtain.

Chief Building Official Bruce Arrowsmith informed members that should Whitchurch-Stouffville's demands be out of line with other municipalities, taxi operators might choose not to work here and residents would be the ones to suffer.

He agreed to contact neighboring towns to find out what their insurance requirements are.

Council's concern is possible claims. Because the Town licences taxi owners, members felt it might be included as a second party in a liability suit.

Treasurer Ed Blackburn assured members the municipality had insurance to cover such circumstances.
