Mission completed says MP

ONTARIO RIDING — Scott Fennell, Member of Parliament for Ontario Riding, will not stand for re-election.

Mr. Fennell made the announcement from his office in Ottawa.

He resides at R.R. 1, Ashburn.

In making his decision public, Mr. Fennell said:

"After serving in public office for almost 10 years as the federal representative for Ontario Riding, I would like to formally announce I have decided not to run again as the candidate in the next federal election.

I originally went into politics as a public service with two aims in mind — to remove Pierre Trudeau from office and to assist in the establishment of a responsible government. I have accomplished both.

I have truly enjoyed my years as the MP for Ontario Riding and wish to thank the residents, many of whom have now become friends, for their continued support."
