Clock tower is repaired

STOUFFVILLE — Stouffville's clock tower is being repaired. However, at one point, there was talk of tearing it down. Mayor Fran Sainsbury revealed this week.

"It was a corporate decision that the tower should stay," she said, "it's part of our history, our roots."

Mrs. Sainsbury admitted the cost of repairs will be considerable, "but we want it done right." The project's completion is anticipated by the end of June, she said, prior to the Strawberry Festival-Canada Day Weekend.
