Beautiful job

Over the past several weeks, dozens of folks have stopped to admire the intricate work completed by Bob Bruce and Co. on the front of Charles and Carole Jackson's house, 191 Main Street West, Stouffville. The verandah with its unique carvings is an exact replica of the original porch. Charles and Carole have the photos to prove it. In the process of reconstruction, carpenters Paul Rould and Steve Bruce uncovered a cornerstone with the names A. Mustard and H. Stover engraved in the cement. The date is April 23, 1924. For Town historian Jean Barkey, this will undoubtedly have some significance. It's a little before my time.

About time

Those little used and badly abused washrooms in the Stouffville Park are soon to be removed. Perhaps they're already gone. I hope so. They were a disgrace.

A souvenir?

Rae and Gwen McFadden Baker Avenue, Stouffville, are planning a trip to Australia. Rae is the very efficient custodian at Stouffville United Church. Rumor has it that he's planning to bring back a baby kangaroo to assist him with caretaking duties; might even be trained to take up the offering, using its pouch as a plate. Wouldn't that draw a crowd.

Wrong date

I turned one too many leaves of my calendar last week, and announced the 10 a.m. switch in services at Stouffville United Church as July 12. Sorry. It's June 12 — next Sunday.

Busy night

Last year was bad enough but this year is worse. Would you believe five Whitchurch-Stouffville school graduations on June 23? While The Tribune is trying to work out a coverage schedule, so also is Town trustee Harry Boves. Harry's hoping the Board will lease him a jet-powered helicopter, so he can keep pace with all the proceedings.

Not forgotten

Gone but not forgotten, Jim and Ev' Michelle were honored by the congregation of Stouffville Pentecostal Church, Sunday evening, (June 5), following the 6 p.m. service.

Now I know

Where is Rev. Phil Poole? Now I know. Thanks to calls from Rev. Paul Scuse and Karen Bowman of Christ Church (Anglican), Stouffville, I've learned Bro. Poole is now the pastor at Trinity Anglican Church, Aurora.

Head pins!

Regular bowlers looked then looked again when five senior students from Stouffville Dist. Secondary School showed up at the alleys in full dress: tuxedos. Duff Wallis, Sean Souter, Scott Couperthwaite, Darren Montgomery and Jeff Carney suggest their attire may set a new bowling dress code. No, it wasn't the same night as the May Prom.

94th birthday

Congratulations to Mrs. Flora Baker, formerly of Rupert Avenue, Stouffville, on the occasion of her upcoming 94th birthday, Wed. June 15. Cards may be sent to Mrs. Baker, c/o The Chronic Care Unit, Metropolitan General Hospital, Windsor, Ontario. The thought would be appreciated by Mrs. Baker and members of her family.

For all Srs.

Senior Citizens' Month in Whitchurch-Stouffville extends from June 15 through July 3. Organizers wish it known the events are for ALL Seniors in Town and that admission is FREE unless otherwise stated.

High honor

Congratulations to Lawrence Puente, Manitoba Street, Stouffville. His Science Fair project entitled "Tree Shapes, An Advantage To Survival" received an Honorable Mention at the national level of competition held in Winnipeg. Lawrence is a student attending King City Secondary School. Three other King City students placed first, second and third. They were: Jens Winslow, Cathy Woodger and Kipp Cannon. Quite a feather in the cap for King City S.S. and the four participating young people.

No ticket?

I park my Pontiac all night on Rupert Avenue and receive a $3.00 ticket. Duncan Gilles parks his Chevrolet on the sidewalk and police admire it. How come? Obviously winter rules don't apply in June.

Promotion

Congratulations to Howard Sproton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sproton, Elm Road, Stouffville, on his recent promotion to the position of Vice President, Support Services with TKM Communications Inc. Howard is a graduate of S.S. No. 77, Public School, Whitchurch and Stouffville High. Howard and Ingrid reside at Caledon.

Good news

Good news! Jim Clark, Stouffville's super sports fan is back in town. He was moved from Scarborough Centenary Hospital to Parkview Home on Monday. His room is No. 14. Visitors are always welcome.

Carol Anne was beautiful June bride

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jones sign the register following their marriage, Saturday, in Christ Church, Stouffville. The beautiful June bride is the former Carol Anne Cunningham, daughter of Tom and Peggy Cunningham, Glad Park Avenue, Stouffville. The groom is the son of Fred and Arlene Jones of Willowdale. Rev. Paul Scuse conducted the ceremony. The bride's maid of honor was Vena Persaud. Bridesmaids were Katrina Armstrong, Wanda Hoover, Michele Jones and Cathy Kelly. The groom's best man was Shawn Aitken. Ushers were Tom Klassen, Paul Hunter, Steve Kelly and Vote Rosin. — Jim Thomas
