Owned bakery

The death is reported of Mr. Wolfgang Dams, well-known former owner and operator of the Stouffville Bakery.

Mr. Dams, 71, died June 12 in Mannheim, Germany. He'd gone there for an anticipated final visit with family relatives and friends. He'd suffered a heart condition several years.

Mr. Dams was born in Germany. At the conclusion of World War II, he was detained in a Russian prisoner-of-war camp. For a period of four years, he was out of touch with all family members. His wife concluded he was dead. Following his release, Mr. Dams came to Canada, returning later for wife Annemarie and family.

An expert baker, he purchased the Stouffville Bakery and continued its operation until 1974 when he retired to live in Etobicoke. Mrs. Dams died in 1980. He later remarried.

Mr. Dams enjoyed flying. He was a member of the Oshawa Flying Club and held a Silver Eagle Medal. It bothered him greatly when told by his physician he should no longer continue in this hobby.

Mr. Dams is survived by Rose, his second wife; one daughter, Regina Logan of Newcastle; three sons, Bernie of Toronto; Chris in Ajax; Mark of Mississauga and six grandchildren.

Service was held Saturday at Whitby with interment Whitby Cemetery.
