

Stingers advance to ladies' league finals

By BRUCE STAPLEY
Using their new found weapon, the Stouffville Stingers advanced to the South Simcoe Ladies League finals Wednesday with a 14-1 drubbing of the Uxbridge Southwinds.

position threw a dazzling one hit as she continues to establish herself as the team's new pitching sensation. Fockler had the Uxbridge ladies hitting the ball into the ground all night, inducing 13 ground outs. She struck out two and forced the opposition hitters to hit six pop-ups. The win gave the Stingers a perfect 4-0 record in post-season play. The league was divided into two parts for the playoffs, with the Stingers taking on Uxbridge and Mt. Albert, two times each. They now go on to play Bradford in a best three of five final to decide the league championship.

Albert 23-6 in her last appearance on the mound the previous Thursday in playoff action. The diminutive right hander has shown a remarkable poise and ability in her late season pitching performances. Her emergence as a top notch hurler has resulted in a defensive shift that has seen Debbie Gold move from her regular catcher's position to fill Fockler's spot.

The Stingers got off to a roaring start Wednesday, racking up four runs in the first inning. Debbie Gold's triple was the key blow, with Allison Lowery, Candy Brown and Denise Davies shipping in with singles.

They added another in the second, and a pair in the fourth on a Fockler double, and singles by Wendy Williams and Gold.

But they saved the heavy artillery for the fifth, when they struck for six runs. Tracy Parks, Lisa Blanchard, Fockler, and Gold all singled. Walks accounted for the other base runners.

Gold capped off the scoring with her second triple of the game in the seventh, stealing home with the final run. Uxbridge managed to break the shutout with one in the sixth.

Stingers' coach Bob Gold was full of praise for his team after the game. "They played well and deserved to win," he said. "Fockler had shut down Mt.

The Stouffville Stingers flew through the Uxbridge Southwinds last week with a 14-1 win put the team close to a play-off crown. A triple threat came about when the bats of Allison Ashton (left), Sheila Fockler (centre), and Cathy Carr (right) were booming. Fockler has been a proven asset to the team since joining recently. —Bruce Stapley
