

Tracy wins eighteen 4-H project award

Eighteen project awards were received by Tracy Andrews, a member of the Ballantrae 4-H Club, who was honored Sept. 7 for attaining this level of excellence. The Achievement Program was held at Markham Fairgrounds.

A single award for completing twelve project awards were received by Bryan and Sharon Baker, Mt. Albert; Stephanie Lintner, Stouffville; Shannon Latham and Agnes Stehouwer both of Temperanceville.

Six projects went to Jenny Spears of Stouffville. Three 4-H leaders were honored — Lillian Davidson of Stouffville, (15 years); Margaret Rose Baker of Mt. Albert and Judy Ratchiff of Bethesda, (five years).

Charmaine Lintner of Stouffville welcomed all 4-H members to the open-air event. Leaders were introduced by Kristey Saunders of Ballantrae. Clubs represented included — Stouffville I and II; Bethesda, Newmarket, South Vaughan, Ballantrae, Mount Albert, Keswick, Temperanceville, Vaudorf and Queensville. Title of the recently completed 4-H Achievement Program was 'Encounter The Outdoors'.

Ban is urged against pit-bulls

Dear Editor: This afternoon, I visited the Stouffville Park with a friend. Together, we had seven children with us including my own sixteen-month-old twins.

We left in alarm following the arrival of two youths accompanied by a pit bull terrier. The dog was not on a leash by roaming freely.

The animal was only a short distance from the five older children who were playing on the swings.

I consider it very unfair that anyone should be forced to leave a public place in fear, caused by irresponsible youths on a power trip. Had the dog attacked any of us, the result would have been traumatic. Had it attacked either of my twins, it would likely have been fatal because of their size. Our only protection was to leave.

I have written to the mayor calling for more stringent laws restricting these animals. I believe a total ban is justifiable as it has already been seen that these dogs can kill and can escape from even the most responsible owners.

I hope we do not wait until something tragic happens in Stouffville before restrictive measures are taken.

I encourage other concerned individuals, especially parents, to contact those in local authority, calling on them to do so.

Sincerely,
Mrs. K. Seymour,
Main Street West,
Stouffville

Liberated hemlines

GOODWOOD — When it comes to fashion, the style-conscious woman has been liberated. They've thrown out all the rules. Sally Grey of The Clothes Horse, Main Street, Stouffville, told a morning coffee gathering of the Goodwood Christian Women's Club, Friday.

"No longer are we slaves to hemlines," the commentator said, "also, you can wear colors that suit you best."

A mini-fashion show, sponsored by The Clothes Horse, was enthusiastically received by a large audience. Participants were — Fran Sainsbury, Mayor of Whitchurch-Stouffville; Helen Hamilton and Jan Evans, also of Stouffville; Femmie Peddema of Goodwood and Caro Wiles of Siloam.

The next meeting is Friday, Oct. 7 at 9:30 a.m. Guest speaker is Ethel Wright, a world traveller. Special music will be provided by soloist Diane Hardman.
