

Michelle's skating skills aid others

By JIM THOMAS

STOUFFVILLE — Michelle Barker's a senior with the Stouffville Figure Skating Club. Her love of the sport spans 11 years. She also assists in a coaching role. She may some day teach professionally. Dances are her specialty. She's our 'Girl Next Door'. Michelle has lived in Stouffville all but two of her sixteen years. She's one of six in the family of Don and Lois Barker, Albert Street North.

A student in Grade 12 at SDSS, Michelle's been actively involved in many areas of high school life including Variety Show and Cross-Country. She and close friend Catherine Thorne of Elm Road are co-managers of this year's cross-country team. Michelle's a co-op student, spending alternate days in the Special Ed. Class at Orchard Park. This association may lead to a permanent career with handicapped children, she says. Michelle's eyes sparkle with delight when the conversation again turns to skating. "I love carnivals," she says. "I wish we could one every year." Asked if performing before a crowd makes her nervous, Michelle replies: "No, I have a ball. Besides, with the lights off, I can't see anyone." She spends up to four afternoons a week at the arena. The season begins this month.

Michelle's also a member of 4-H. Her club is Stouffville II. Leaders are Mrs. Lintner and Mrs. Irwin. "Stephanie (Lintner) encouraged me to join and I'm glad I did. The knowledge I've gained about cooking is terrific." On weekends, Michelle's possesses the smile behind the counter at Video Mania, Main Street West. Michelle's looking forward this spring to her visit to Carpentras, France. French, she says, is one of her favorite subjects. Jim Rehill was her favorite teacher. Unfortunately, she says, she doesn't have him in Grade 12. Michelle leaves no doubt concerning her biggest boosters. "My parents," she enthuses, "they advise me to do my best and be happy."
