Area riders gallop to top prizes

By DENISE McDONALD
 Several area riders were big winners at the Markham Fair's Arabian and Half Arabian Horse Show Saturday, taking home a combined total of 48 award.
 Ross and Maryann McDuff of Stouffville secured first place and championship ribbons in the five-year-old and over stallion division with MDA Kirby, second in the five year-old and over mare division with Frosti Flame and third in two to four-year-old mares with MDA Precious.
 Jodi Van Iderstine and the Living Legend, also from Stouffville, were the recipients of a third place finish in the weanling and yearling any-sex category.
 Markham's Emily Wallace and Dresden Drift put in an exemplary performance, taking home more than 10 honors, including first in half Arabian amateur owner English pleasure, second in the saddle seat equitation, second in novice western pleasure, third in western stock seat equitation, third in showmanship 13 years and under, third in half Arabian amateur owner western pleasure, third in half Arabian open western pleasure, third in half Arabian open show hack, fourth in hunt seat equitation and fifth in half Arabian open English pleasure.

 Markham's second winning entry was Joanne Wright and Shamouri who were awarded fifth in hunt seat equitation and fourth in showmanship 14 to 18.
 The town of Claremont also put in an impressive showing represented by Mary Bowden, and her two mounts Ta Baske and Baskara. They took home second in the western pleasure stake, second in the English pleasure stake, second in pure Arabian open English pleasure and fourth in pure Arabian in native costume.
 June Wilkins and High Rail Winson, Udora, secured third in pure Arabian open hunter pleasure, fourth in pure Arabian novice western pleasure, fourth in pure Arabian novice English pleasure and fourth in five year old and over geldings.
 Iris Hennigar and Steelbars Messiah, Newmarket, won first in five year-old and over geldings, also taking the championship in that category, fourth in pure Arabian amateur owner English pleasure and sixth in pure Arabian open English pleasure.

HORSE SENSE: Ross McDuff of Stouffville proudly displays MDA Kirby, an award winner at the Markham Fair Horse Show on the weekend. Several local equestrian enthusiasts brought home ribbons from the event.

Keeping it in the family, Faye Hennigar and Phineas took first in pure Arabian open hunter pleasure, first in pure Arabian open show hack and second in pure Arabian native costume.
 Judith Spearen and Hillviews Sonrisa, Mount Albert, placed fourth in pure Arabian open English pleasure, first in pure Arabian novice English pleasure, fourth in open show hack and seventh in pure Arabian open hunter pleasure. Judith also took home sixth in pure Arabian English pleasure stake riding

ASF Andrew.
 Mother and daughter team Joan and Tara Pichurski from Mount Albert added a list of impressive credits to their winnings riding several mounts. With Scandal's Legacy, Tara placed first in stock seat equitation, first in hunt seat equitation, second in showmanship 14 to 18, second in the western pleasure stake, second in amateur owner western pleasure, second in open western pleasure, first in open English pleasure, and third in open show hack. Then riding Marahko, they were awarded first in saddle seat equitation, first in the English pleasure stake and first in amateur owner English pleasure.

Rain doesn't dampen Fair's Western horse enthusiasts

Let's give credit where credit is due.
 Despite torrential downpours and slippery footing conditions, a full complement of exhibitors turned out for competition in the Markham Fair's Western Horse Show Sunday.
 And not only were local riders in attendance, there were those from as far away as Ridgeway, Sundridge and Freelon, all competing for end-of-season points.

 Topping the list for area riders was Rhonda Tatone of Stouffville and Iona Bonanza, who placed first in showmanship, 18 years and under, second in western pleasure, third in youth amateur horsemanship, fifth in ladies' western pleasure and eighth in the western pleasure stake.
 Borrowing his sister's mount, Nick Tatone secured third in the gentleman's western pleasure class.

 Unheeded of poor footing and flying mud, Stouffville's, Glenn Moorehouse and Traffic Jammer blazed into a fourth place finish in open pole bending and fifth in dash for cash.
 Rounding up the pack was Joanne Cartan and CanaJun or Mount Albert, who took home a first in ladies' barrels and third in the barrel stake.

SDSS girls drop one to Huron 39-23

Despite the impressive play of Leslie Palmer and Nicoie Ellis, the Stouffville District Secondary School Midget girls' basketball team lost 39-23 to Huron Heights at home last Thursday.
 However, the game was closer than the score indicated, says Coach Sheila Coleman.
 "We had a lot of shots that just weren't dropping in for us in the first half," Coleman said.
 Palmer was top scorer for SDSS, driving to the basket for 13 points.
 Defensively, Ellis played a strong game, pulling down most of the Stouffville squad's rebounds.
