

Late Bill Kingsley

School teacher cadet instructor

A well-known former Stouff- Mr. Kingsley taught several ville resident returned 'home'. last week to the community he loved so much.

Funeral service was held in Christ Church Anglican for William (Bill) Kingsley, formerly of Burke's Falls.

ticipated. Still, his death came as a shock to many who weren't aware of the seriousness of his his sickness.

His passing was announced over the PA system at Stouffville Dist. Secondary School where years.

War II, Mr. Kingsley volunteered for service overseas. He was captured by the enemy and spent time in a German prisoner-of-

A friend to all as family relatives and friends reunion in the fall of 1970.

Nov. 2 at Parkview Home, Stouff- the Women's Institute and the ville, where she'd been a resident Horticultural Society.

formed in Scarborough General of Prayer. Hospital. However, she lived only For years, she was Ringwood's two days following her release.

Mrs. Steckley, the former Ada and her husband became an in- the funeral service Saturday, told tegral part of the Ringwood com- of memories precious to them. munity. Their home was 'open' Surviving are two daughters, with the Ringwood Christian grandchildren. Church dated back to her teen. She was predeceased by her School: She taught a Sunday Clara Holden.

Bill Kingsley was a self-made success. He never knew his parents due to the fact his mother died at childbirth and his father was killed in a motor vehicle acly of Stouffville and more recent- cident. He was left in the care of two great aunts who saw to it he Mr. Kingsley, stricken with was raised by a caring grandlung cancer, lived ten months mother in her home. The family longer than doctors had an accepted him as one of their own.

With the outbreak of World war camp.

paid their final respects to a well- For many years she attended known former Ringwood resi- the Christian Church Conference. dent, Mrs. Fred Steckley. She was a charter member of the Mrs. Steckley passed away Excelsior Class. She belonged to since February, 1986. She was 88. Mrs. Steckley was a strong sup-It was three weeks ago that porter of the Sunday School Con-Mrs. Steckley suffered a broken vention. She served on the plannhip. Successful surgery was per- ing committee of The World Day correspondent to The Tribune. Rev. Dan Schut, pastor to the Gower, was born in Stouffville, Ringwood congregation describdaughter of George and Mary ed Mrs. Steckley as "a very Gower. Following marriage, she precious lady." Others attending house' to everyone who came to Noreen, (Mrs. Victor Brown), of Bishop's Mills near Ottawa; grandfather's love ten-fold. She was a loving mother, Shirley in Toronto; one son: grandmother and great- Harold of Windsor; sisters Annie grandmother. Fockler and Rae Pipher; nine Mrs. Steckley's association grandchildren and 18 great-years. Her life touched all areas husband, Oct. 18, 1985 and two of the congregation and Sunday sisters, Pearl Brownsberger and

BILL KINGSLEY

On his return to civilian life, he. accepted a position with a drug trading company. But he never lost that determination to further his education.

He returned to school and later. graduated in 1959 as a teacher.

wife Betty in all extra-curricular, ville's cultural life. Yet, if a new The O'Neill Funeral Home was School class for 50 years and activities and encouraged son facility can't be found, 300 filled to overflowing; Saturday, helped organize a Sunday School Bill to further his interests in writing and sports.

Before joining the staff at SDSS, Mr. Kingsley taught at both Orchard Park and Summitview. Geography was his favorite.

Bill Kingsley's teaching abilities and his experience in the airforce, made him a natural to take over the operation of the local Air Cadets. He enjoyed this work to the full, first in Stouffville and later at Newmarket.

While his retirement years were cut short by illness, Mr. Kingsley spent as much time as possible with grandson Matthew. He would read to him by the hour and assist in the construction of meccano projects.

Little Matthew returned his

Rev. Paul Scuse conducted the service. Margaret Britton prepared and read a fitting eulogy. The previous evening, Stouffville Branch 459 of the Royal Canadian Legion held a solemn memorial worship at the O'Neill Funeral Home, a tribute much appreciated by the family ...

DanceCentre will close if new site not found

By KATE GILDERDALE

of the fact of the second control of the sec arrived in Stouffville, 13 years tre would occupy the property discipline, the loss of this facility ago, youth recreation programs beginning Jan. 1, 1989, after will come as a bitter blow. were much as you'd expect to necessary renovations were find in any small town - hockey completed. and skating in the winter; summer.

Then Stouffville began to grow, attracting people with new ideas and interests. When the new Library opened, it hosted a variety of pre-school programs.

A few years later, Michele Green, now owner and director of Stouffville's DanceCentre, began teaching pre-school dance there.

It was the beginning of an incredibly successful venture, one that now rivals sporting activities for popularity and, with Mr. Kingsley was a devoted the annual recital, one that's husband and father. He assisted become an integral part of Stouffchildren and 150 adults will find themselves without a studio or the expertise of a dedicated and highly qualified teacher."

> With increasing pressure on space at her present location and a year left on her lease, Michele had begun planning for the future. She noticed that a nearby property was available for rent. She visited the site and discussed plans with the owner. They came STOUFFVILLE - When we to an agreement. The DanceCen-

Michele made arrangements to baseball and swimming in the terminate her current lease at the end of December.

Last week, her prospective landlord advised Michele the premises had been leased to another party for more money. By this time, the owner of the present studio had leased his property to someone else also, leaving Michele with nowhere to continue her program.

The DanceCentre can't be allowed to close. For the many who have invested time, effort nicest Christmas gift of all a and boundless enthusiasm to improve and grow in their chosen

For Michele herself, it's the end of the dream she's worked so hard to make a reality. No doubt she'll be forced to look to another community; to start over again.

Perhaps one day, Stouffville will obtain another dance studio and a new director. Unfortunately, today's students won't reap the benefits.

On the other hand, this is Stouffville, the friendliest town in Ontario. Perhaps someone, somewhere, has a solution.

If you ca help, contact the local children whose leisure ac- DanceCentre at 640-6082. You tivities revolve around it, and could give 300 young people the

Laura Windsor a gift to child education

Windsor gathered at the O'Neill Funeral Home to pay tribute to a beloved wife, mother, grandmother and dedicated public school teacher.

Born Laura Eva Gertrude Oldham at Mount Albert, March 16, 1903, she was one of eight children. She later married Robert Windsor.

They built and moved into their Ballantrae home in 1935, where they lived until his death 24 years ago. Their son, Robert, still lives in the same family residence.

Mrs. Windsor remained in Ballantrae for 12 years following her husband's death, then moved to Parkview Apartments, Stouffville, where she lived for 10 years. She moved into Parkview Home two years ago.

For many years, she was a popular teacher at Ballantrae students attended the funeral service.

When she retired from teaching, Mrs. Windsor continued to tutor students privately.

LAURA WINDSOR

Friends and family of Laura Public School. Many former She had many hobbies including oil-painting, leatherwork and knitting and often made gifts for family and friends.

> She was a member in the congregation of Ballantrae United Church and the Ballantrae U.C.W.

Mrs. Windsor came from a large, close-knit family, and she continued that relationship with her own children, putting their needs ahead of her own. Extremely dedicated was the son Robert described his mother.

She leaves a daughter Ruth Wilson; a son Robert; a brother Norman Oldham; a sister Carrie McLaughlin; grandchildren Randy, Lorann, Tom, Michael, Elaine, Scott, Lisa, Nelson, Andrew and James and greatgrandchildren Jennifer and Hilary.

Interment was made at Mount Albert Cemetery.

Attention Flyer Advertisers

We can deliver your flyers for a little as 31/2 cents. apiece. So far this year, we have delivered 14,680,700 flyers door-to-door in Markham, Unionville, Milliken, Stouffville, Uxbridge and surrounding rural routes.

We can deliver your flyers on the day you want, in the area you want - any quantity from 5,000 to 35,000.

Call: Advertising at 294-2200/640-2100 or. Distribution at 294-8244/640-2100

Frank Scorpitti ::: Shoppers Drug Mart Moores The Suit People

